BREMEN FLYERS WILL VISIT SIX CITIES

DECLINE HUNDREDS OF INVITATIONS IN MAKING ITINERARY

Leave Washington Following Hearty Reception

WASHINGTON, May 3.—Glowing and happy over the warmth of their reception in the capital, the Bremen transatlantic flyers left here this morning for New York in the Junkers monoplane F-13, a sister ship to the famous ship which still lies marooned on Greenly Island.

The German-Irish trio took off from Bolling Field at 8:28 a. m. bound for Miller Field, Staten Island, which they hope to make in about two and one-half hours.

The capital was hardly as bright when the F-13 rose in the early May sunshine. Only a group of army flyers, mechanics and newspaper reporters witnessed the flyers' departure, a fact which was not unpleasing to Baron Von Huenefeld, Capt. Hermann Koehl and Major James Fitzmaurice, for crowds and mobs have been their lot since arriving in the United States.

The present plans of the trio are to remain in New York, as quietly as possible, until the inauguration of their American tour on May 9. They have hardly had an hour's relaxation since they were taken off Greenly Island ten days ago and catapulted into a series of receptions and experiences such as only transatlantic aerial pioneers could merit.

Out of hundreds of invitations to visit cities, large and small, in various parts of the country, the flyers have decided upon a ten-day aerial tour which will include, in addition to New York and Washington already visited.

The trip will be made in the F-13, a sister ship of the Bremen in case it is impossible to get the Bremen to New York from Greenly Island, by May 9, when the trip begins.

The announcement of the tour from the German embassy said it was impossible for the flyers to accept as many invitations as they would like because, "Messrs. Koehl, Fitzmaurice and Huenefeld desire to return home to receive the welcome from the people of Germany and Ireland and this makes a limitation of their sojourn in the United States imperative."

The itinerary follows:

Wednesday, May 9.—Reception in Philadelphia.

Thursday, May 10.—Flight to Chicago.

Friday, May 11.—Reception in Chicago.

Saturday, May 12.—Rest.

Sunday, May 13.—Visit to Milwaukee.

Monday, May 14.—Flight to St. Louis.

Tuesday, May 15.—Reception in St. Louis.

Wednesday, May 16.—Flight to Detroit.

Thursday, May 17.—Reception in Detroit.

Friday, May 18.—Flight to Boston.

Saturday, May 19.—Reception in Boston.

BLOCK BOOKING IS ATTACKED IN SUIT

CLEVELAND, O., May 3.—An injunction suit, said to be the first of its kind here, was on file in federal court today asking that the motion picture producers and distributors of America, headed by Will H. Hays, be restrained from "block booking" films.

The suit filed by a Cleveland subsidiary of the Variety Amusement Company, owning theaters throughout the state, under a Sherman anti-trust act, and the Clayton acts, and alleging conspiracy in restraint of trade, is the aftermath of a fight begun last fall in New York when a protest against the alleged system was filed with the federal trade commission. A bill to abolish the "system" is now pending in congress as a result of a meeting of independent exhibitors with the interstate commerce commission in Washington last March.

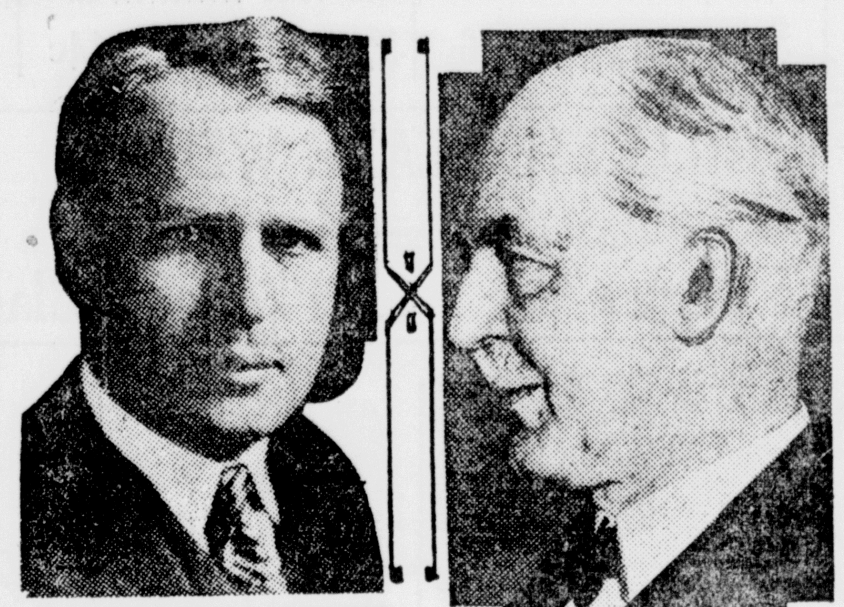

Federal Judge D. C. Westenhaver will hear the suit here May 14.

HONORED AT O. S. U.

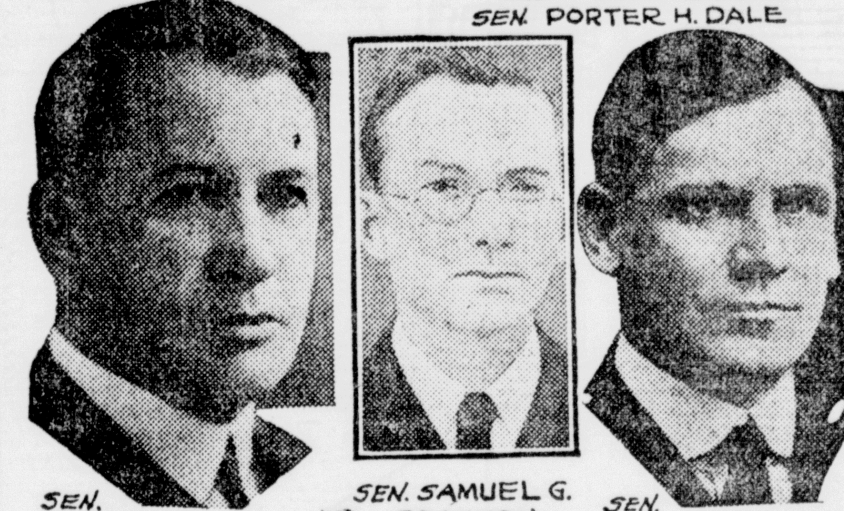

COLUMBUS, O., May 3.—Claud Recker, of Ottawa, O., was today president of the student senate of Ohio State University. He was elected to that post late yesterday by the student body of the university.

Recker is a junior in the college of law, a member of the Delta Theta Phi, legal fraternity, is secretary of the "homecoming" association; president of the Newman club, and is also a member of the Interfraternity Council.

SENATORS WATCH CAMPAIGN FUNDS

SEN. FREDERICK STEIWER

SEN. PORTER H. DALE

Here are senators who compose a new committee to keep an eye on campaign funds. They have power to summon and investigate. Appointed by Vice President Dawes upon the passage of a resolution by Senator Joseph T. Robinson, of Arkansas, Democratic floor leader, three are Republicans—Senators Frederick Steiwer, of Oregon, chairman; W. H. McMaster, of South Dakota, and Porter H. Dale, of Vermont; and two are Democrats—Senators Alben W. Barkley, of Kentucky, and Sam G. Bratton, of New Mexico.

ILLINOIS FLYER PLANS 4,200 MILE FLIGHT TO STOCKHOLM

Believes Northern Route Eliminates Danger Of Ocean Section—Will Make Two Jumps, Including Greenland.

NEW YORK, May 3.—Bert Hassell, a big blonde aviator of Rockford, Ill., was in New York City today completing arrangements for his contemplated flight of 4,200 miles from Rockford to Stockholm, Sweden, by way of Greenland. This far north route, in his opinion, "is the most feasible way to cross the ocean to Europe."

"The longest stretch of water that I will have to span is 548 miles, a fact that obviously cuts down the danger of coming down in mid-ocean," said Hassell. "This is quite a contrast from the 1,900 miles of water that must be crossed in flying over the trans-Atlantic routes."

He is going to try and make Stockholm in two jumps. He will hop off from Rockford the latter part of June or early in July for Mount Evans, Greenland, a distance of 2,100 miles, and the only contemplated stop. From Mount Evans he will take off for Stockholm, an additional 2,100 miles.

Hassell will be accompanied by another pilot who identity has not been disclosed. Before taking off from Rockford Hassell will be in radio communication with Professor William H. Hobbs of the University of Michigan who for the past four summers has conducted a meteorology station at Mount Evans.

STOLP, Germany, May 3.—The dirigible Italia left Sedda hangars near here today on the second leg of its flight to the North Pole with King's Bay, Spitzbergen, as its destination.

General Umberto Nobile, commander of the giant airship, stated that a landing might be made at Vadsoe, Norway, for refueling.

Titiana, the fox terrier mascot of the Italia, accompanied Nobile and his crew of sixteen on the flight.

Mme. Nobile and her daughter bade the general goodbye affectionately just before he jumped in to the gondola of the ship. They smiled bravely and seemed confident of the success of his venture. They will return to Italy at once.

The dirigible is expected to cover the 1,000 miles to King's Bay in between forty and fifty hours. Its cruising speed is about eighty miles an hour, but this will be lessened greatly by expected head winds.

The Norwegian government is keeping men in readiness to aid the Italia to make a landing at Vadsoe, if Nobile should decide to stop there. Vadsoe is about 900 miles north of here.

STOCKHOLM, May 3.—The dirigible Italia, escorted by Swedish naval planes, passed over this city at 10:45 this morning.

BREED TORTOISES

NEW YORK, May 3.—With the hope of restocking the Galapagos Islands and other natural habitats, a synthetic zoo has been created at the Bronx Zoo to receive land tortoises sent here as the nucleus of a breeding firm. They are valuable for their meat and are becoming extinct. Wild dogs and wild pigs, which destroy their eggs in their native haunts, will not be a menace here.

WARN RUM FLEET COMMANDERS TO STAY WITHIN BOUNDARIES

BRITISH PROTEST ALLEGED INVASION OF BERMUDA HARBOR

British Note Says Treaty Must Be Observed.

WASHINGTON, May 3.—The invasion of the Port of St. Georges, Bermuda, by two rum chasers of the United States coast guard six weeks ago, which brought a note of protest from the British government, has resulted in a warning to commanders of the rum fleet that they must confine their activities to the territorial waters of the United States, as defined in the special anti-smuggling treaties.

Three incidents in as many months wherein United States patrol vessels overstepped the rules of international law in Caribbean waters led to a vigorous representation by the British ambassador, Sir Esme Howard, when the destroyers Cuyahoga and Travis, out of New York, showed into St. Georges unannounced early in March.

The Bermuda rum treaty provides that American coast guard vessels may not invade British waters without giving formal notice of their approach to local authorities.

In mitigation of the Cuyahoga and Travis violations, the state department explained to Sir Esme Howard that the two bottoms had been out nine days in continuous bad weather, had suffered engine trouble and had a crew member suffering blood poisoning which required immediate medical attention.

The British government has accepted this explanation with the understanding that every care will be exercised to avoid further treaty violations.

The United States government has given emphatic assurance that the two vessels did not enter St. Georges on a snooping cruise.

THREE INJURED BY AIRPLANE CRASH; YOUNG FLYER DEAD

Air Tragedies Take Toll News Reports Show

CHICAGO, May 3.—Two persons were reported dying today and a third was seriously injured as the result of an airplane crash.

Those believed fatally injured are, Miss Dare Montgomery, 24, and Eugene Apfelbaum, 24.

Dr. Milton H. Weil, pilot of the plane, was seriously hurt.

The trio had gone for a pleasure trip over the city. They were 600 feet above the Desplazas River when the plane was seen to go into a nosedive. It crashed into a tree, hung on the boughs for an instant and then toppled to the river's edge.

Dr. Weil, owner of the plane, was an unlicensed pilot. Miss Montgomery was a Galesburg, Ill., school teacher.

STURGIS, Mich., May 3.—Fred H. Newman, 16-year-old son of C. C. Newman, proprietor of the Strand Theater, was killed when the plane in which he was a passenger crashed to the ground.

Lieut. Gerald Smead, the pilot, recently graduated from Kelly Field, Texas, was seriously hurt. Dewey A. Cross, 27, a passenger, was also probably fatally injured.

MILLIONAIRE DIES

CHICAGO, May 3.—Louis A. Bensinger, 71, millionaire head of a chain of billiard parlors and bowling alleys, was dead today from injuries received when run down by an automobile.

WASHINGTON, May 3.—Edward Augustin Savoy, 74-year-old negro messenger "boy" for Secretary of State Kellogg, took his place today at the head of the government service roll.

He began his fifty-eight year of continuous service, having entered the department as a manual laborer in 1871,

JAPANESE TROOPS ENGAGED IN BLOODY BATTLE WITH CHINESE

TOKIO, May 3.—A sanguinary battle between Japanese troops and hordes of soldiers of the Nationalist Chinese army is raging at Tsinan today, according to official information given out by the Japanese war office.

Fierce fighting broke out when the Japanese attempted to stop looting by the Nationalists who were in possession of the town, the war office stated. The Japanese are believed to be greatly outnumbered. The number of casualties is not known.

KILLS BROTHER WITH BALL BAT

CHICAGO, May 3.—Dreams of Harry Cheezum, aged 6, to become a big league ball player were ended today in tragedy.

Harry had coddled his little brother Jimmy, aged 4, to play ball with him. While swinging at a "fast one," the bat flew out of Harry's hands and struck Jimmy in the abdomen.

Jimmy died two hours later in the hospital.

SMITH STILL GAINS IN OFFICIAL COUNT OF CALIFORNIA VOTE

Hoover Given Huge Complimentary Vote In Primary

SAN FRANCISCO, May 3.—Governor Al Smith's overwhelming victory in California's Democratic primary election was further emphasized today as tabulation of returns from the few remaining precincts proceeded.

While the votes cast for Herbert Hoover, Republican candidate on the primary slate, continued to pile up into a huge total well over the half million mark, Smith's edge over the combined poll of his Democratic opponents, Senators James A. Reed and Thomas J. Walsh, maintained itself at approximately 30,000.

Reed, running second to Governor Smith, had a lead over Walsh of approximately 13,000.

With tabulation complete in 7,790 precincts out of a total of 8,753 throughout the state, the revised vote count stood:

Hoover (Republican) 539,194.
Smith (Democrat) 438,762.
Reed (Democrat) 56,828.
Walsh (Democrat) 43,680.

All but four of the fifty-eight precincts in the state returned Smith victorious in the Democratic voting, on the basis of returns already tabulated. Reed won two counties, Walsh one, and the fourth, registered only Republican votes.

REVOKE CHARTERS OF 17 MINE UNIONS

BELLAIRE, O., May 3.—Seventeen Belmont County local mine workers' unions were today with-drawn from the United Mine Workers of America following the action of State President Lee Hall in revoking their charters.

There will probably be no other revocations in sub-district five, officials of the organization said today.

Failure of the local mine workers' unions to follow orders of the district board to oust those members who were affiliated with the "save the union" movement in Belmont County was given as the reason for the charter revocations.

Over 5,000 members of Belmont County unions are affected by President Hall's action.

Announcement of the revocation of the charters of the seventeen local unions was made by John Clague, president of sub-district five last night. An attempt to re-organize the ousted unions without the membership of those connected with the "save the union" group was under way today.

during the administration of President Grant.

Despite his advanced years, snowy hair and slightly buckled frame, "Eddie," as he is now known to diplomats the world around, expects to remain in harness at least two years more, to establish a new all-time service record.

Savoy served thirteen years as general fixer about the cavernous state, war and navy building before he attained the rank of "assistant messenger" in 1884. Fourteen years more and he rose to messenger. In 1898 he was sent to France as chief messenger to the Paris peace commission, and upon his return in 1901, took up his present post at the inquiry desk outside the office of the secretary of state.

LIFE FOR RUM?

Because two deputy sheriffs have sworn that they found whiskey in her home, Mrs. Alexandrina Kodrook, of Lansing, Mich., faces the possibility of spending the remainder of her life in Michigan State Prison. She has been convicted of the possession of liquor on three previous occasions. Under Michigan law a fourth conviction can result in a life imprisonment sentence. Deputies charge they found two pints of home-made whiskey in a raid on her home.

HOUSE CUTS CLAUSE FROM FARM RELIEF MEASURE SUDDENLY

Substitutes Bill Of Opponent Similar To Jar-dine Idea

WASHINGTON, May 3.—Severely jarred, but still grimly determined, the house "farm bloc" fought today with its back to the wall to save the McNary-Haugen farm relief bill from defeat.

As the situation stood today the equalization fee—declared by farm organizations spokesmen to be the heart of the measure—is stricken out. In its place is a bill somewhat akin to the farm relief proposed by Secretary of Agriculture Jardine.

Backers of the bill declared that the house would reverse its action of yesterday, when by a vote of 141 to 120 it adopted the bill of Rep. Aswell (D) of Louisiana, as a substitute for the first section of the McNary-Haugen bill.

The parliamentary tangle created by the unexpected action was still muddled as the house prepared to renew the fight over the measure today. Under the machinery of the house the action was taken in committee of the whole, with Rep. Napages (R) of Michigan as presiding officer in stead of Speaker Longworth. Much depends upon Napages' decision on the parliamentary situation.

The action came with dramatic suddenness, although Rep. Aswell, who, with Rep. Ford (R) of New Jersey, has been leading the fight against the bill, had previously announced his intention to move to substitute his own measure.

"The 'farm bloc' leaders have demanded that they be permitted to continue to consider the McNary-Haugen bill for amendments, while opponents contend that the Aswell substitute should be voted upon today."

The Aswell substitute was adopted without a roll-call vote, and "farm bloc" leaders were confident that some members would change when a final record vote is taken. They also pointed to the absence of 174 members at the time of the vote.

"We are going to fight on," said Rep. Haugen (R) of Iowa, chairman of the agriculture committee. "We shall see whether we have the majority that we thought we had."

Early lines were split on the vote on the Aswell amendment. Many members who voted for it announced that they wanted farm relief and believed that the president would sign the Aswell bill without the equalization fee but would veto the McNary-Haugen bill with it.

Only one minor amendment had been made when the vote was taken. Fruit was exempted from the operations of the bill on motion of Rep. Harrison (D) of Virginia.

PROBE MYSTERIES IN WOMAN'S DEATH

JACKSON, O., May 3.—Officials of Jackson County today were communicating with authorities at Chicopee, Mass., and Hampden County following the death of Miss Emma McCutcheon, 54, who died last Friday at Centerville, near here. Her body was sent to the Massachusetts town last Saturday without the consent of county officials, they reported today.

Miss McCutcheon left over $30,000, it is reported. An investigation was started, it was reported, when Miss McCutcheon's brother-in-law tried to buy a coffin from a Centerville undertaker, but did not want the body to be seen.

According to Sheriff Ross, neighbors reported that the woman had been mistreated.

A grave had been dug in the Centerville Cemetery, Coroner Monahan said, but the body was hurriedly sent to Chicopee when he was advised of the woman's death.

PIPE KING ILL

TIFFIN, O., May 3.—Ill with bronchial pneumonia, Upton L. Weirick, the "cornob pipe king," was confined to his home here today.

The cornob pipe industry of Washington, Mo., was headed for a number of years by Weirick, who is credited with naming the cornob pipe the "Missouri Meer chaum." He retired recently to return to his former home here.

SPORTSMAN DIES

COLUMBUS, O., May 3.—The body of John Hope, 57, New York race horse owner and sportsman, will be sent to New York City for burial.

Hope fell dead as the result of a heart attack in his room at a local hotel yesterday afternoon. His wife, Mrs. Maxine Hope, and their son, David, 5, were with him when he was stricken.

SENATE DIVIDED ON NEW TAX REDUCTION BILL CONTROVERSY

Tax Slice Appears Most Important Fiscal Issue.

WASHINGTON, May 3.—The most important fiscal issue facing the American government lay beneath the surface warfare today in the senate fight over the new tax reduction bill.

The senate was divided into two camps on the question of debt retirement, one faction contending that the present generation should carry the burden of paying the debt while the other favored its gradual refunding over a period involving future generations. This was the real issue as debate started over the administration plan for a $203,000,000 tax reduction and the Democratic substitute for a $366,000,000 slash.

The insurgents were reported ready to line up with the administration on the smaller reduction plan as they favor using all treasury surpluses for the retirement of war debts. A year ago, Senator Norris (R) of Nebraska, sponsored the resolution, which directed the treasury to use a $400,000,000 surplus for debt retirement.

In the ten years since the war, the public debt has been slashed from twenty-six to eighteen billion dollars. Another billion dollars will be repaid by June 30, the end of the current fiscal year. Of this billion dollar slash, all but a few hundred millions came from general taxation, although the original debt retirement law provided that only one-half of the debt—or $13,000,000,000—should be repaid by general taxation over a period of forty years. The other half was to come from foreign repayments.

That cities should refuse licenses to road houses until after a protective association examination of the applicant's past record.

That laws should be passed requiring a matron in every night club and road house where dancing and other amusements are indulged in.

That police should be allowed to enter any commercialized club without a warrant.

That each state should have a law enabling it to go over the heads of any community to revoke licenses.

The congress Wednesday went on record as opposed to the blocking of motion pictures as injurious to the morals of youth.

Saturday the board of managers of the congress is to decide upon the site of next year's convention. Denver and Des Moines are chief contenders for the honor.

DENOUNCES WOMAN AT TRIAL OPENING

COURT HOUSE, ALBANY, N. Y., May 3.—Denouncing Mrs. Florence E. S. Knapp, former secretary of state, as a "thief who defrauded the state out of thousands of dollars," George Z. Medalla, special deputy attorney general, today opened the state's case against New York's first woman state official.

Supreme Court Justice Stephen Callaghan and the jury listened intently as the state's prosecution unmercifully flayed Mrs. Knapp for her alleged juggling of the $1,200,000 census fund.

As for Mrs. Knapp, her hands twitched nervously as she gazed steadily out of a window.

Mrs. Knapp is on trial on a charge of stealing a $2,815 census check made payable to her step-daughter, Clara Blanche Knapp.

Doran said.

The action followed congressional criticism of administrator John D. Pennington, of Pittsburgh, who sent out a questionnaire to determine the character, wealth, religion and political affiliations of prospective jurors.

"The duty of the prohibition bureau is to investigate liquor violations, prepare cases and make arrests, but not to pry into the private affairs or beliefs of jurors," Doran said.

"That is a matter entirely for the U. S. courts."

Doran warned administrators to avoid tampering with jurors either directly or indirectly.

Pennington is understood to have informed prohibition headquarters that he made the jury investigations at the request of the United States attorney's office, but his explanation was unsatisfactory to Doran who in substance advised the Pittsburgh administrator not to exceed his authority.

While votes cast for Herbert Hoover, Republican candidate on the primary slate, continued to pile up into a huge total well over the half million mark, Smith's edge over the combined pool of his Democratic opponents, Senators James A. Reed and Thomas J. Walsh, maintained itself at approximately 30,000.

Reed, running second to Governor Smith, had a lead over Walsh of approximately 13,000.

With tabulation complete in 7,790 precincts out of a total of 8,753 throughout the state, the revised vote count stood:

Hoover (Republican) 539,194.
Smith (Democrat) 128,762.
Reed (Democrat) 56,828.
Walsh (Democrat) 43,680.

All but four of the fifty-eight counties in the state returned Smith victorious in the Democratic voting, on the basis of returns already tabulated. Reed won two counties, Walsh one, and the fourth registered only Republican votes.

REVOKE CHARTERS OF 17 MINE UNIONS

BELLAIRE, O., May 3.—Seventeen Belmont County mine workers' unions were today withdrawn from the United Mine Workers of America following the action of State President Lee Hall in revoking their charters.

There will probably be no other revocations in sub-district five, officials of the organization said today.

Failure of the local mine workers' unions to follow orders of the district board to oust those members who were affiliated with the "save the union" movement in Belmont County was given as the reason for the charter revocations.

Over 5,000 members of Belmont County unions are affected by President Hall's action.

Announcement of the revocation of the charters of the seventeen local unions was made by John C. Kinney, president of sub-district five last night. An attempt to reorganize the ousted unions without the membership of those connected with the "save the union" group was under way today.

during the administration of President Grant.

Despite his advanced years, snowy hair and slightly buckled frame, "Eddie," as he is now known, to diplomats the world around, expects to remain in harness at least two years more, to establish a new all-time service record.

Savoy served thirteen years as general fixer about the cavernous state, war and navy building before he attained the rank of "assistant messenger" in 1884. Fourteen years more and he rose to messenger. In 1898 he was sent to France as chief messenger to the Paris peace commission, and upon his return in 1901 took up his present post at the inquiry desk outside the office of the secretary of state.

LIFE FOR RUM?

Because two deputy sheriffs have sworn that they found whiskey in her home, Mrs. Alexandra Kodrock, of Lansing, Mich., faces the possibility of spending the remainder of her life in Michigan State Prison. She has been convicted of the possession of liquor on three previous occasions. Under Michigan law a fourth conviction can result in a life imprisonment sentence. Deputies charge they found two pints of home-made whiskey in a raid on her home.

NIGHT CLUBS UNDER FIRE FROM PARENT-TEACHER CONGRESS

Organization Urges Regulation; Oppose Block Booking.

CLEVELAND, May 3.—Many proposals were to be presented today to the National Congress of Parents and Teachers, in convention here, among them being a request that the organization go on record for regulation and supervision of night clubs and road houses.

"Loose operating road houses and night clubs are daily launching their quota of young people on the road to bad morals," said Mrs. William Tilton, of Cambridge, Mass., chairman of the congress' legislative committee, who is to present the chief proposal.

"Youth is attracted to these places as an adventurer to the brink of a volcano," Mrs. Tilton asserted. "Music, liquor and all-night parties lower the resistance of youth and too often they succumb."

Mrs. Tilton said she would offer the following plan for regulation of the road house:

That cities should refuse licenses to road houses until after a protective association examination of the applicant's past record;

That laws should be passed requiring a matron in every night club and road house where dancing and other amusements are indulged in;

That police should be allowed to enter any commercialized club without a warrant;

That each state should have a law enabling it to go over the heads of any community to revoke licenses.

The congress Wednesday went on record as opposed to the block booking of motion pictures as injurious to the morals of youth.

Saturday the board of managers of the congress is to decide upon the site of next year's convention. Denver and Des Moines are chief contenders for the honor.

HOLD TOURNAMENT IN SPITE OF FIRE

YOUNGSTOWN, O., May 3.—The annual Ohio state amateur golf tournament, during the week of June 25, will be held at the Youngstown Country Club despite Wednesday's fire which nearly destroyed the clubhouse.

This was the opinion of officials of the club today. A conference for the purpose of determining what action will be taken, is scheduled for tomorrow.

Doran said:

"That is a matter entirely for the U. S. courts."

Doran warned administrators to avoid tampering with jurors either directly or indirectly.

Pennington is understood to have informed prohibition headquarters that he made the jury investigations at the request of the United States attorney's office, but this explanation was unsatisfactory to Doran who in substance advised the Pittsburgh administrator not to exceed his authority.

HOUSE CUTS CLAUSE FROM FARM RELIEF MEASURE SUDDENLY

Substitutes Bill Of Opponent Similar To Jar-dine Idea

WASHINGTON, May 3.—Severely jarred, but still grimly determined, the house "farm bloc" fought today with its back to the wall to save the McNary-Haugen farm relief bill from defeat.

As the situation stood today the equalization fee—declared by farm organizations spokesmen to be the heart of the measure—is stricken out. In its place is a bill somewhat akin to the farm relief proposed by Secretary of Agriculture Jardine.

Backers of the bill declared that the house would reverse its action of yesterday, when by a vote of 141 to 120 it adopted the bill of Rep. Aswell (D) of Louisiana, as a substitute for the first section of the McNary-Haugen bill.

The parliamentary tangle created by the unexpected action was still muddled as the house prepared to renew the fight over the measure today. Under the machinery of the house the action was taken in committee of the whole with Rep. Mayes (D) of Michigan as presiding officer in stead of Speaker Longworth.

Much depends upon Mayes' decision on the parliamentary situation.

The action came with dramatic suddenness, although Rep. Aswell, with Rep. Fort (R) of New Jersey, has been leading the fight against the bill, had previously announced his intention to move to substitute his own measure.

"The farm bloc" leaders have decided they are permitted to continue to consider the McNary-Haugen bill for amendments, while opponents contend that the Aswell substitute should be voted upon finally.

The Aswell substitute was adopted without a roll-call vote, and "farm bloc" leaders were confident that some members would change when a final record vote is taken. They also pointed to the absence of 174 members at the time of the vote.

"We are going to fight on," said Rep. Haugen (R) of Iowa, chairman of the agriculture committee. "We shall see whether we have the majority that we thought we had."

Party lines were split on the vote on the Aswell substitute. Many members who voted for it announced that they wanted farm relief and believed that the president would sign the Aswell bill without the equalization fee but would veto the McNary-Haugen bill with it.

Only one minor amendment had been made when the vote was taken. Fruit was exempted from the operations of the bill on motion of Rep. Harrison (D) of Virginia.

PROBE MYSTERIES IN WOMAN'S DEATH

JACKSON, O., May 3.—Officials of Jackson County today were communicating with authorities at Chillicothe, Mass., and Hampden County following the death of Miss Emma McCutcheon, 54, who died last Friday at Centerville, near here. Her body was sent to the Massachusetts town last Saturday without the consent of county officials, they reported today.

Miss McCutcheon left over $30,000, it is reported. An investigation was started, it was reported, when Miss McCutcheon's brother-in-law tried to buy a coffin from a Centerville undertaker, but did not want the body to be seen.

According to Sheriff Ross, neighbors reported that the woman had been mistreated.

A grave had been dug in the Centerville cemetery. Coroner Monahan said, but the body was hurriedly sent to Chillicothe when he was advised of the woman's death.

PIPE KING ILL

TEFFIN, O., May 3.—Ill with bronchial pneumonia, Upton L. Weirick, the "corn-cob pipe king," was confined to his home here today.

The corn-cob pipe industry of Washington, Mo., was headed by Weirick, who is credited with naming the corn-cob pipe the "Missouri Meerschaum." He retired recently to return to his former home here.

SPORTSMAN DIES

COLUMBUS, O., May 3.—The body of John Hope, 57, New York race horse owner and sportsman, will be sent to New York City for burial.

Hope fell dead as the result of a heart attack in his room at a local hotel yesterday afternoon. His wife, Mrs. Maxine Hope, and their son, David, 5, were with him when he was stricken.

MESSANGER BOY IN SERVICE FOR 58 YEARS

WASHINGTON, May 3.—Edward Augustin Savoy, 74-year-old negro messenger "boy" for Secretary of State Kellogg, took his place today at the head of the government service roll.

He began his fifty-eight year of continuous service, having entered the department as a manual laborer in 1871, despite his advanced years, snowy hair and slightly buckled frame, "Eddie," as he is now known, to diplomats the world around, expects to remain in harness at least two years more, to establish a new all-time service record.

Savoy served thirteen years as general fixer about the cavernous state, war and navy building before he attained the rank of "assistant messenger" in 1884. Fourteen years more and he rose to messenger. In 1898 he was sent to France as chief messenger to the Paris peace commission, and upon his return in 1901 took up his present post at the inquiry desk outside the office of the secretary of state.

MISS ROUBUSH WEDES LOVELAND MAN WEDNESDAY

Xenia friends have received announcements, reading as follows: "Mr. and Mrs. George Milton Roubush announce the marriage of their daughter, Ada Belinda, to Mr. Lawrence Winter Nisbet, on Wednesday, the second of May. One thousand nine hundred and twenty-eight, Xenia, Ohio." At home after September first, Loveland, Ohio.

Miss Roubush is well remembered here where she conducted a class in dancing. She has been teaching the last few years at the Schuster-Martin School, Cincinnati. She is a graduate of Denison University, Mr. Nisbet, is engaged in the lumber business in Loveland. He is a nephew of the late Wilbur D. Nisbet, poet.

BRIDGE PARTY HELD AT WRIGHT FIELD

Sixteen tables were in play when Mrs. James Doolittle, Wilbur Wright field, entertained with bridge at the Officers' Club, Wednesday afternoon. Mrs. George P. Tourtellot entertained at luncheon at her quarters at the post.

Mrs. Ben Calhoun, W. Second St., who has been critically ill with a complication of ailments, is convalescent.

Mr. Robert H. Kelble, card-writer at the Rike-Kumler Co., Dayton, is taking two weeks' vacation at his home here.

Born to Mr. and Mrs. Pearl Blackburn, Market and Monroe Sts., a son named Richard Craig Blackburn, Monday morning.

Mrs. William Neeld has been removed to her home on S. Galloway St., from a local hospital where she has been taking treatment.

Miami Grange, Yellow Springs, visited Charity Grange near Dayton, Thursday evening and initiated a class for the latter Grange, into the third and fourth degrees. At the close of the degree work, Charity entertained Miami Grange at a banquet.

Mr. A. L. Fisher, Bowersville, is a patient at the Espay Hospital, undergoing treatment.

Cute in a Baby-Awful at Three-and it's Dangerous

Thumb sucking does look sweet in a baby, but it is disgusting in the three-year-old and sometimes it hangs on until fifteen or sixteen! The habit may cause an ill-formed mouth or induce adenoids; and it always interferes with digestion. Pinning the sleeve over the hand; attaching mittens, or putting on cardboard cuffs, which prevent bending the arms at the elbows, are some of the ways to stop the habit.

Another bad habit—irregularity in bowel action—is responsible for weak bowels and constipation in babies. Give the tiny bowels an opportunity to act at regular periods each day. If they don't act at first, a little Fletcher's Castoria will soon regulate them. Every mother should keep a bottle of it handy to use in case of colic, cholera, diarrhea, gas on stomach and bowels, constipation, loss of sleep or when baby is cross and feverish. Its gentle influence over baby's system enables him to get full nourishment from his food, helps him gain, strengthens his bowels.

Castoria is purely vegetable and harmless—the recipe is on the wrapper. Physicians have prescribed it for over 30 years. With each package, you get a valuable book on Motherhood. Look for Chas. H. Fletcher's signature on the wrapper so you'll get the genuine.—Adv.

Mrs. A. C. Turrell, S. Detroit St., submitted to a gottle operation at the Miami Valley Hospital, Dayton, Wednesday. She is recovering nicely.

Mr. E. K. Augustus of the field service department, Ohio Farm Bureau Federation, spent Thursday in Greene County on business.

Greene County doctors have been attending various sessions of the State Medical Association, convention in Cincinnati, this week.

Mrs. John Dymond, Washington and Monroe Sts., returned Wednesday from St. Louis, Mo., where she has been spending several days with her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Paul C. Long, (Emma Dymond) and family.

The Xenia Ministerial Association will meet at the Presbyterian Church, Market and King Sts., Monday, May 7, at 10:30 a. m.

FUEL ENABLES SHIP TO STEAM TO PORT

NEW YORK, May 3.—After being helplessly off the Virginia capes for two weeks, the oil-burned freighter, Western Ocean, steamed up New York Harbor today. The vessel, which carries a crew of thirty-five, had run short of fuel.

Three coast guard cutters and a navy tug had made unsuccessful attempts to tow the Western Ocean into port since her plight was first reported, April 18. Yesterday the navy tug, Kewadin, ran a pipe line to the ship and pumped 15,000 gallons of fuel aboard, enabling it to continue. The vessel left Hamburg for New York on March 27.

STATE SCHOOL HEAD COMING TO COUNTY

State Superintendent J. L. Clifton will be in Greene County May 26, at 2 p. m., to meet with all interested in the transfer of $128,000 tax duplicate territory from Sugarcreek Twp. School District to the Spring Valley School District.

About 1,400 acres are involved in the proposed transfer. The county and township boards of education and others interested in the deal will attend the meeting.

LIMING DISMISSED ON LIQUOR CHARGE

An affidavit charging Lewis Liming, Yellow Springs, with possessing liquor, was dismissed by Probate Judge S. C. Wright on motion of the defendant Thursday morning.

Judge Wright interrupted the trial of the case with the testimony half completed and dismissed the charge for lack of evidence.

Liming was arrested by the Village marshal of Yellow Springs.

SPANKING PUPILS TABOO IN PRUSSIA

BERLIN, May 3.—Spanking has been prohibited in Prussian schools for girls of all ages and for boys of the first and second grades.

Dr. Becker, Prussian minister of culture, has issued the following decree which was circulated among the teachers today:

"Report of school authorities show that in practice as well as in theory, corporal punishment is gradually being abandoned. It is my wish that, in agreement with this development such punishment should be restricted even more than heretofore and should finally disappear entirely."

WANT "FREE LOT" SCHEME OUTLAWED

CLEVELAND, May 3.—A rule specifying that any operator or salesman engaging in a "free lot" scheme in the state would be refused a license forever, is to be promulgated by the Ohio Board of Real Estate Examiners, according to Chairman J. W. Jacoby.

Jacoby's announcement followed the closing meeting of the board here yesterday, during which several cases involving brokers and allotment operators who were up for unethical advertising, were heard.

"We do not believe that offering of so-called 'free lots' as a means of obtaining prospective buyers for higher priced lots is square," Jacoby declared.

FIREMEN PUZZLED BY PERSONAL FIRE

EVANSTON, Ill., May 3.—Evanston firemen know how to fight other people's fires, but when their own hook and ladder truck, enroute to a fire, broke out in flames they were frankly stumped.

"Keep cool," quoted someone from the book of rules. But the fire kept right on burning. Just then Fire Chief A. N. Hofstetter happened along.

"What you fellows need," he began, "is the fire department. Whereupon other equipment was summoned to the scene. With their private fire out, the department proceeded to answer the first alarm."

EX-OFFICER BREAKS WINDOW FOR SHIRTS

NEW YORK, May 3.—Once a major-general in the Russian army, George D'Hedberg today was in Tombs Prison here, charged with breaking the display window in a department store in an attempt to steal two shirts which he hoped to sell for food.

Following his arrest, D'Hedberg told a story of poverty and suffering when brought up in magistrate's court. He said he was a graduate of Moscow University and held a Ph. D. degree from the Sorbonne.

BIBLE THOUGHT FOR TODAY

THE LIGHT OF GOD—For the commandment is a lamp; and the law is light; and reproofs of instruction are way of life.—Prov. 6:23.

POOR SORT OF "PARADISE"

According to reports more than 1,000 Swiss subjects, among whom are many Communists who sold up their homes to try their fortunes in the Bolshevik paradise, are now living in the last stages of destitution in Russia.

Their lamentable condition is ascribed to the complete stagnation of trade under the Soviet, which has compelled many of them to appeal for assistance to the Swiss authorities to enable them to keep body and soul together.

And still the Reds are trying to persuade the rest of the world to try their scheme of government.

TURNING LOSS INTO PROFIT

Government's failure in the operation of the merchant marine has been colossal. Even with the expenditure of billions getting into the business during the war, and with all the facilities at hand after the war, the government has not maintained an adequate merchant fleet; it has provided an increasingly inferior service at continued and large loss. Meantime, it has seriously hampered the operation of private lines. The prospect is nothing better.

By its approval of the Jones shipping bill, the Senate has voted to keep the government in this business; in fact, to establish it even more firmly by the expenditure of further large sums of taxpayers' money.

The House is being urged to declare its disapproval of this policy by adopting the White bill, which provides for the transfer of government ships to private interests and for a helpful policy toward ship owners in the building and maintenance of an adequate merchant fleet. The aid would be given in the form of mail contracts, certain tax exemptions, and insurance. It might be extended to include compensation for maintenance of suitable ships as naval auxiliaries and to provide loan funds, on favorable terms, to facilitate construction of new, fast vessels better adapted to the needs both of commerce and defense.

The government's effort has cost the nation billions, and has been a fiasco. The merchant fleet should be restored to private ownership before it is too late, before American shipping disappears as completely as it had disappeared before the war.

Some self-made men leave parts of the job unfinished.

The Way of the World

WHEN CREDIT IS DUE

There are always many of us who resent too great success—especially success in the form of wealth—on the part of our associates. But the less well-to-do owe a debt of appreciation to the very successful. Out of a population of 117,000,000 not more than 3,000,000 pay income tax. Most of the great enterprises which give the rest of us something to do and a chance to make a living are carried on by a few. Don't resent success as measured in dollars. We need it. It helps us all.

BLONDE OR BRUNETTE?

Well, here's the answer to the age-old controversy as to whether the brunette is superior to the blonde in any way—and if so, how? Experiments show that brunette women automobile drivers are better drivers than blondes. They are more careful, more level-headed. Their blonde and red-headed sisters are temperamental, excitable, not so good at the wheel.

All of which is only moderately important.

MAN AND MACHINE

Mr. Darrow says man is a machine. And so he is. But man is unlike other machines. He has something that other machines do not have and cannot get. The corner drug store will sell you the ingredients of which the human body is made for a little less than a dollar—or in somewhat larger amounts for about three dollars. But you cannot make a man of them. Machines may be made to function perfectly, but they do not seek to be something better than themselves. Man, at his best, does seek to be something better than himself. There's a difference.

EUROPE'S BUSINESS

American business is being helped by improvement in European markets. Europe, slowly recovering from war, is gradually getting into shape. The stage of a newer and keener competition seems near. A great European combination in the steel business may some day threaten American combination in the steel business may some day follow and European markets be protected by home industry. European business will not only come back, but in time will be formidable. Already Europe's business is powerful as far as South American trade is concerned.

PHOTOGRAPHING THOUGHTS

Now they are talking about photographing thoughts. That might be terrible. Who can stand to have his thoughts—the majority of them—photographed? What do you say? Try it on yourself. How many of the thoughts you have had today would you just as soon have recorded where all might see? And we ARE our thoughts. Our actions may not truly represent us. Our thoughts do.

RE-AMERICANIZING

Senator Vandenberg, Michigan, says the whole body of our people—not just the foreign born—need re-Americanization. He is right indeed. Many who came from across the sea have a greater love for and a greater appreciation of our institutions than some whose grandfathers were born here. Allegiance to the principles upon which the American government is founded can come from anybody anywhere.

The Diary of a New Yorker

by CLARK KINNAIRD

NEW YORK, May 3.—Sights for sight-seers in the biggest city in the world: Charles M. Schwab, chairman of the board, Bethlehem Steel corporation, perched on a stool at the Grand Central station oyster bar, eating stew. Supposedly hard-boiled feminine members of the younger generation weeping at the revival of "Ten Nights in a Bar-room." Burton Rascoe, the international recognized critic of the arts, enjoying the show at Minsky Brothers' burlesque theatre. The New York skyline through the blue haze that envelopes it just after sundown. The office of Crosby Gaige, show producer, and the extraordinary furnishings and art objects it contains. James J. Walker, mayor of New York, doing the Charleston. A caravan of armored cars taking $1,800,000 in gold bullion from the Federal Reserve bank to the liner Aquitania. Ushers at the Roxy theatre, "Cathedral of the Movies," going through military drill. David Warfield avidly disposing of chili in a quick-lunch shop on 42nd street. The motion picture critics trying to act like openings. A solitary window-washer at work on the 37th floor of the Woolworth building. Mabel Boll, the amateur aviatrix, wearing her diamonds. O. M. McIntyre's clothes.

Barkers on sight-seeing buses report that the average visitor from out of town and the rubberneck tourist from in town, insist on believing that Chinatown is just as sinister and mysterious and wicked as ever it was in the old days. The folks want to see opium dens, and places where Chinese live with white girl slaves, and Oriental gambling houses, and perhaps a long war in progress. They're disappointed when they fail to find Chinese women in native costume and Chinese men with pistols. However, when questioned by passengers, the barkers give the answer they believe the questioners expect. They have learned that it pleases the customers to show off pretended knowledge of the big city or to be made to feel that they know what they're talking about.

The men who do the announcing on buses dislike to be called barkers. They are lecturers. They know a lot about human oddities. They can tell "a live one" a block away.

They know that men grumble most about delays in starting. Women like to watch crowds pass on the sidewalk. They have learned that westerners are less likely to be offended by wise cracks addressed to them and most likely to engage in banter. Only men ever give tips. Most people when suddenly told to look to the right look to the left. Older persons usually are in the majority on the tours. Newly-weds usually try to get the back seats. The weather makes a great difference in the humor of the passengers. In cold weather they are less likely to smile at jokes, but in summer they are a jovial crowd.

Quirks of Street Traffic

While the traffic on the shady side of the street is usually 24 per cent more than on the sunny side, an exceptional condition may upset this average. If most of a city lies to one side of a principal thoroughfare, as often happens in a lake or sea coast town, that side of the main artery will get more than its normal share of the traffic. People are less easily enticed across a street in some towns than in others. Boston, for example, is a conservative city, and its populace is inclined to be considerably bound by habit to do whatever it always has done.

In a few cities habit has even led people to cross certain street intersections diagonally. Just why the crowd should cut corners at one place and not at another seems to have no good explanation, other than that it has become customary. Most of the larger cities have so-called "jay-walkers" ordinances to prevent pedestrians from crossing streets diagonally, because of danger from automobile traffic. It is entirely conceivable that such an ordinance often forces enough additional foot traffic by a building to make a big increase in its ground floor renting value, and add thousands of dollars to the building's worth.

In a small village nearly the entire population passes its business corner—or its nearest approach to a busy corner—each day. A smaller and smaller percentage of the population can pass the one busiest location as the town grows larger. Indeed, I am assured by experts that in a city of 40,000, only about 8,000 persons, or 20 per cent, will pass the busiest spot. It will be only 6 per cent in a city of 600,000, and in New York it is less than 2 per cent.

DINNER STORIES

"Are you sure," an anxious patient asked a physician, "are you sure that I shall recover? I have heard that doctors sometimes give wrong diagnoses, and have treated patients for pneumonia who afterwards died of typhoid fever."

"You've been woefully misinformed," replied the medico, indignantly. "If I treat a man for pneumonia he dies of pneumonia."

How to Achieve Beauty

By MME. HELENA RUBINSTEIN

THE EYES AS A HEALTH BAROMETER

Each part of the body is a working unit of the harmonious whole. Each part, in its function and its organism, bears a direct relationship, through the media of thousands of little nerves, to all the rest of the body. The eye, which has been called the window of the soul, has another, less poetical, but none the less true interpretation.

It is the lighthouse of your health. It flashes the danger signals, the warnings of stormy times ahead, and it also, through the mechanical reaction, announces the presence of trouble in the human frame.

A prominent physician once made the very interesting notation which helped to place the eye as a diagnostic media. An owl had attached itself to his finger, and in pulling him away, the physician had dislocated the bird's leg.

He happened to be looking directly at the bird's eyes during the time, and watched a black mark appear, at the moment of dislocation, in the lower center part of the eyes. Afterward, while setting the owl's leg, and throughout the healing period, he watched that part become just gray, covered with a film, and finally, as the bird ended his convalescence, it became quite normal again.

The physician found, through his careful watching and experiment, that different injuries to the foot and leg were indicated always on the one particular part of the eye and he, and others who followed the line of investigation, worked out a chart singularly accurate and reliable, pointing out how troubles in different limbs and organs are all represented in different parts of the eye.

Diet and Health

LIVER COCKTAIL IN PERNICIOUS ANEMIA

Liver is proving such a tremendous help in the treatment of pernicious anemia patients that there is no doubt that the healthy mortal will have to be content with going without it unless some other remedy is found to be as efficacious. Some physicians now hold that the other meats, especially kidneys, are equally effective, but this has not been proven yet, although the Minot-Murphy pernicious anemia diet does not recommend other meats being used also.

In the severe cases, raw liver is recommended. This seems repellent to us, but we eat raw oysters and raw clams without making any faces, so there is no doubt that the taste for raw liver can also be cultivated. Dr. Wilkins, in a recent number of the American Medical Journal, gives a liver cocktail which he says, if begun in small amounts, will soon be liked well enough to be taken in fairly large doses twice a day. At his suggestion, this cocktail was worked out by Miss Clara Schroeder, of Piqua, Ohio. It follows:

Liver Cocktail

Preparation: Liver — As soon as each order of liver is received at the kitchen, carefully remove all the veins and tough parts. Rinse in cold water.

Nor is it alone in the "spots" that the eye betrays your health, or lack of it. Texture, too, is a trustworthy barometer. When the eyes appear almost compact in texture it is a sign of vitality and strength. When they become opaque, frayed and uneven on the surface, they betray weakness.

Color, too, is an accurate means of judging physical condition. The eye of a perfectly healthy person is somewhat lighter in color than that of a less fortunate individual. This does not mean that the blue-eyed individual is healthier than her brown-eyed sister, but that the normal shade, either black, blue, hazel or brown, will be of a lighter shade in the healthy person.

The user of drugs can be recognized and convicted on the evidence of his eyes. Even comparatively harmless ones have their sign by color marks clearly visible on the outer rim—different colors evidencing different drugs. The pupils, too, contract and expand, not only from the effect of outside lighting, but from inside well being, too.

To the layman there are certain easily detected signs which are universally known and recognized.

No one fails to see the signs of cold. In fever, eyes are hard and bright like brittle stones, shining much too vividly for the comfort of the watchers. In the East the color of the eyes fade, not only from the intense heat of tropical suns, but through the gradual thinning out of blood and pigment. Anemia and undernourishment show themselves in the pale inner circles surrounding the eyes. A little study and observation will teach you to estimate your eye correctly as an unfailing barometer of health. And this is only the first of its claims upon your attention.

Put the prepared liver through a meat grinder twice, using the finest cutter. Place it on ice immediately. One-half pound of liver makes four tablespoonsful of crushed product.

Sauce: Prepare a sauce as follows: Tomato catsup, 1-2 cup; lemon juice 1-4 cup; Worcestershire sauce, 2 teaspoonfuls; chives (finely chopped), 1-2 teaspoonful; salt and pepper to taste.

Cocktail — Mix the liver and sauce in the proportion of one part crushed liver to two and one-half parts of sauce. Chill thoroughly and serve in a cocktail glass with salt crackers or wafers.

A patient will acquire a taste for this liver cocktail. For a few days the amount offered should be very small, and then gradually increased until the patient readily accepts two cocktails daily, each of from two to four tablespoonsful of crushed liver. It is essential that the following recommendations be strictly adhered to: Every tough part must be carefully removed and the liver finely ground; the cocktail must be served cold and eaten with crackers; time must be allowed each patient to "develop a taste" before large amounts are offered.

MENU HINT

Figs are good for old and young. We housewives are so likely to get into a rut in our meal getting. We are busy, and prepare what we are familiar with and what is therefore easy to cook. The fig tartlets will surprise and please the family and probably will be new to guests, too.

Today's Recipes

Casserole of Rice and Meat — Grease a mold and line with steamed rice. Fill the center with two cups of cold, finely chopped meat, highly seasoned with salt, pepper, celery salt and onion juice. Then add one cup cracker crumbs, one egg slightly beaten, and enough hot water to moisten. Cover meat with rice, over rice with buttered paper to keep out moisture while steaming, and steam 45 minutes. Serve on a platter surrounded with tomato sauce.

Fig Tartlets — Three-fourths cup chopped figs, one-fourth cup chopped raisins, one-half cup sugar, one-half cup water, three tablespoons confectioners' sugar, one egg yolk, one tablespoon lemon juice, one-fourth cup chopped, roasted almonds, pastry shells, one stiffly beaten egg white. Cook the figs, raisins, sugar and water until thick — about ten minutes. Pour on to the egg yolk and cook over boiling water three minutes. Cool slightly and add lemon juice and nuts. Pour into small baked pastry shells. Slowly add three tablespoons confectioners' sugar to the stiffly beaten egg white, beating constantly until thick and smooth, and put on top of the tartlets. Bake in a moderate oven until delicately browned.

Brown Bread Toast — Brown bread may be used in either the cream toast or milk toast recipes in place of the usual white or graham bread. Toasted brown bread is delicious with either cream or pimento cheese and lettuce. Hot baked beans poured over toast, buttered brown bread makes a quick and substantial luncheon. Brown bread toasts rather slowly as it must be allowed time to dry out in the toaster. But be careful not to let it remain in long enough to burn as this destroys the nutty flavor.

Behind the Scenes in Washington

By CHARLES P. STEWART

WASHINGTON, May 3. — A speech by Senator Smith W. Brookhart of Iowa is a good deal like a shot fired out of a gun.

Once started, there's no stopping it.

The man the shot's fired at may not be that Brookhart's entirely mistaken—he hasn't done anything to be shot for. Or he may argue that he's the wrong person. He may offer the best kind of an alibi.

It's all one. If you're shot, you're shot—whether in error or otherwise.

Thus, Brookhart shot Vice President Daves recently — with a speech, of course; not a bullet.

All the rest of us know that Daves isn't a candidate for the Republican presidential nomination. We're quite aware that Frank O. Lowden is his choice, that he (Daves) isn't the race — isn't an aspirant—doesn't want the nomination under any circumstances — unless, indeed, he can get it, somehow.

Yet, to everybody's consternation, what should his fellow-senators see Brookhart doing the other day, but loading up his 45 with an attack on Daves' presidential candidacy!

"For mercy's sake," cried Charles's friends, in horror, "don't shoot! That man's as innocent of a candidacy as a child unborn."

"Aye, heck!" said Brookhart, shutting one eye—did he mean it as a contemptuous wink or was he squinting for a good aim?—and fired deliberately.

The Iowa progressive's shot was in the nature of a charge that Daves has persuaded his crowd (his crowd—think of it!) to delay senate action on the McNary-Haugen farm relief bill as long as possible, for his own political benefit.

According to Brookhart, Charles foresees that congress finally will pass the bill and President Coolidge will veto it.

Thereupon, the Iowan predicts, Daves will denounce the veto in Hel-n-Maria terms, proclaim himself agricultural champion, try to grab off the nomination while the farmers are still yelling for him, and make McNary-Haugenism his issue all through the campaign.

Brookhart's superiority over other senators, as a sharpshooter, lies mainly in his refusal to recognize any closed season for the game he's out to get.

Plenty of others have considered, for quite awhile, that Daves ought to be shot at—as a candidate. So long, however, as he insisted that he wasn't one, they had a feeling that they were bound to take his word for it, no matter what their personal suspicions might be.

Brookhart has no such scruples. He bangs away at whatever he wants to hit. He's a champion marksman, too—wears medals for it.

The Hawkeye senator's lone slug probably didn't pierce the vice president through any vital organ, but it did him this damage—

It ruined his protective coloring.

It was as a candidate that Brookhart shot him.

Wounded as one folks naturally are going to take it for granted that that's what he is, unless he does something mighty convincing to prove that he isn't. And he can't do that. If he made it too darn convincing, he might cease to be one.

Yet if he doesn't, now that Brookhart's started it, every body'll shortly be taking pot shots at him.

WISE PARENTS

Wise indeed are the parents who realize that their children need friends and who provide them with a safe place in which to meet them. To me a letter like the following is very hard to answer. I cannot tell girls to disobey their parents. And yet, when parents are unreasonable and act as if it was a crime instead of the most natural thing in the world, for them to have friends, what am I to do? I wish some of you parents who feel that way would write me your side of the story.

"Dear Mrs. Lee: I would like you to give me a definite answer to the following problem: I am a high school student in my fourteenth year. I try my best to do my school work and have succeeded. My parents do not show appreciation of my work. I help my mother with all the housework after school hours, besides my homework. My parents do not approve of any nice girl friends or boy friends. In fact, where I live there aren't any nice girl friends. My father will not let me join a girls' club in my home town. Recently, I have met a boy whom I consider a nice friend. I was caught speaking to him, and my father told him not to dare look at me or speak to me any more. Ever since this happening I am kept a prisoner and am barely allowed to go to school, even though I am trilled there.

"I am heartbroken and lonely. I have a sister 18 years old, who has a good position and does not go out with any boy friends or girl friends, because my parents don't approve. We are only allowed to go to a movie about twice a month. We try very much to reason with them, but they will not listen. Would you please solve this problem for a little girl?"

"HARRIET."

Conceding that this case is exaggerated — unintentionally, of course—how will these girls learn to discriminate between desirable and undesirable friends when they do get free from their parents? How will they learn balance? Of course I haven't heard the parents' side of the question, but I am afraid there are many homes where it is a crime for a girl in her teens to be caught talking to a boy. All I can advise, dear little girl, is that you see to it that your parents see this and ask them sometime, how they felt and what friends they had when they were young. And what harm came of such friendship? If nothing comes of it, try to interest yourself in books and chum together. You and your sister have one another, at least. You are fortunate in that.

Peter's Adventure

SAFETY FIRST

Peter could scarcely believe he was looking at a nest. It was so tiny. He knelt down to examine it more carefully.

"Did you do that on purpose?" asked he, touching the nest with a careful finger.

"Do what?" asked the Hummingbird in chorus.

"Twist the moss about the nest and around the twigs to which it is fastened?"

"Why of course we did that on purpose. We want the nest to look like a knot on the branch to anyone who might be passing. There are plenty of prying eyes whose owners might do us harm if they spied it!" Mr. Hummingbird took it upon himself to answer.

"Well, you've done what you wanted to do!" cried Peter. "I could look at the nest a dozen times and not guess what I was feeling. Say, how did you make the moss stick so well?" The boy was curious. Now it was Mrs. Hummingbird who answered.

"With glue from our mouths," said she. "It is 'safety first' always with us Hummingbirds, although I do think the moss makes our home pretty while it protects it. I wonder if you noticed husband didn't fly straight here from the honey-suckle bush!"

"I did, and for a moment I wondered where he had gone to!" laughed Peter. "He certainly flew out of sight."

"He did and he flew out of sight on purpose. He didn't intend that any of the prying-eyed people should get a suspicion where our nest was hidden. He rose so high to throw any chance passer-by off the track. If he hadn't wanted you to, you would not have caught him dropping from the sky, either. He would have waited until you had gone before coming back to the nest. The long way home is the safe way home for a Hummingbird to take. By the way, aren't the eggs on the eggs for nine days. Unless I'm much mistaken, tomorrow we shall hear the children scratching to be let out of their shells. Before night out will pop their dear wee heads and then how their dad and I will have to hustle to feed the hungry little tummies! They must have all the flower wine they can hold so they shall grow strong of wing. It shall never be said any child of ours didn't have a fair start in life!"

HE KNELT DOWN TO EXAMINE THE NEST.

BIBLE THOUGHT FOR TODAY

THE LIGHT OF GOD—For the commandment is a lamp; and the law is light; and reproofs of instruction are way of life.—Prov. 6:23.

POOR SORT OF "PARADISE"

According to reports more than 1,000 Swiss subjects, among whom are many Communists who sold up their homes to try their fortunes in the Bolshevik paradise, are now living in the last stages of destitution in Russia.

Their lamentable condition is ascribed to the complete stagnation of trade under the Soviet, which has compelled many of them to appeal for assistance to the Swiss authorities to enable them to keep body and soul together.

And still the Reds are trying to persuade the rest of the world to try their scheme of government.

TURNING LOSS INTO PROFIT

Government's failure in the operation of the merchant marine has been colossal. Even with the expenditure of billions getting into the business during the war, and with all the facilities at hand after the war, the government has not maintained an adequate merchant fleet; it has provided an increasingly inferior service at continued and large loss. Meantime, it has seriously hampered the operation of private lines. The prospect is nothing better.

By its approval of the Jones shipping bill, the Senate has voted to keep the government in this business; in fact, to establish it even more firmly by the expenditure of further large sums of taxpayers' money.

The House is being urged to declare its disapproval of this policy by adopting the White bill, which provides for the transfer of government ships to private interests and for a helpful policy toward ship owners in the building and maintenance of an adequate merchant fleet. The aid would be given in the form of mail contracts, certain tax exemptions, and insurance. It might be extended to include compensation for maintenance of suitable ships as naval auxiliaries and to provide loan funds, on favorable terms, to facilitate construction of new, fast vessels better adapted to the needs both of commerce and defense.

The government's effort has cost the nation billions, and has been a fiasco. The merchant fleet should be restored to private ownership before it is too late, before American shipping disappears as completely as it had disappeared before the war.

Some self-made men leave parts of the job unfinished.

WHEN CREDIT IS DUE

There are always many of us who resent too great success—especially success in the form of wealth—on the part of our associates. But the less well-to-do owe a debt of appreciation to the very successful. Out of a population of 117,000,000 not more than 3,000,000 pay income tax. Most of the great enterprises which give the rest of us something to do and a chance to make a living are carried on by a few. Don't resent success as measured in dollars. We need it. It helps us all.

BLONDE OR BRUNETTE?

Well, here's the answer to the age-old controversy as to whether the brunette is superior to the blonde in any way—and if so, how? Experiments show that brunette women automobile drivers are better drivers than blondes. They are more careful, more level-headed. Their blonde and red-headed sisters are temperamental, excitable, not so good at the wheel.

All of which is only moderately important.

MAN AND MACHINE

Mr. Darrow says man is a machine. And so he is. But man is unlike other machines. He has something that other machines do not have and cannot get. The corner drug store will sell you the ingredients of which the human body is made for a little less than a dollar—or in somewhat larger amounts for about three dollars. But you cannot make a man of them. Machines may be made to function perfectly, but they do not seek to be something better than themselves. Man, at his best, does seek to be something better than himself. There's a difference.

EUROPE'S BUSINESS

American business is being helped by improvement in European markets. Europe, slowly recovering from war, is gradually getting into shape. The stage of a newer and keener competition seems near. A great European combination in the steel business may some day threaten American combination in the steel business may some day follow and European markets be protected by home industry. European business will not only come back, but in time will be formidable. Already Europe's business is powerful as far as South American trade is concerned.

PHOTOGRAPHING THOUGHTS

Now they are talking about photographing thoughts. That might be terrible. Who can stand to have his thoughts—the majority of them—photographed? What do you say? Try it on yourself. How many of the thoughts you have had today would you just as soon have recorded where all might see? And we ARE our thoughts. Our actions may not truly represent us. Our thoughts do.

RE-AMERICANIZING

Senator Vandenberg, Michigan, says the whole body of our people—not just the foreign born—need re-Americanization. He is right indeed. Many who came from across the sea have a greater love for and a greater appreciation of our institutions than some whose grandfathers were born here. Allegiance to the principles upon which the American government is founded can come from anybody anywhere.

The Diary of a New Yorker

by CLARK KINNAIRD

NEW YORK, May 3.—Sights for sight-seers in the biggest city in the world: Charles M. Schwab, chairman of the board, Bethlehem Steel corporation, perched on a stool at the Grand Central station oyster bar, eating stew. Supposedly hard-boiled feminine members of the younger generation weeping at the revival of "Ten Nights in a Bar-room." Barton Rascoe, the international renowned critic of the arts, enjoying the show at Minsky Brothers' burlesque theatre. The New York skyline through the blue haze that envelops it just after sundown. The office of Crosby Gaige, show producer, and the extraordinary furnishings and art objects it contains. James J. Walker, mayor of New York, doing the Charleston. A caravan of armored cars taking $1,800,000 in gold bullion from the Federal Reserve bank to the liner Aquitania. Users at the Roxy theatre, "Cathedral of the Momies," going through military drill. David Warfield avidly disposing of chili in a quick-lunch shop on 42nd street. The motion picture critics trying to act like openings. A solitary window-washer at work on the 37th floor of the Woolworth building. Mabel Boll, the amateur aviatrix, wearing her diamonds. O. O. McIntyre's clothes.

Barkers on sight-seeing buses report that the average visitor from out of town and the rubberneck tourist from in town, insist on believing that Chinatown is just as sinister and mysterious and wicked as ever it was in the old days. The folks want to see opium dens, and places where Chinese live with white girl slaves, and Oriental gambling houses, and perhaps a long war in progress. They're disappointed when they fail to find Chinese women in native costume and Chinese men with pistols.

However, when questioned by passengers, the barkers give the answer they believe the questioners expect. They have learned that it pleases the customers to show off pretended knowledge of the big city or to be made to feel that they know what they're talking about.

The men who do the announcing on buses dislike to be called barkers. They are lecturers. They know a lot about human oddities. They can tell "a live one" a block away.

They know that men grumble most about delays in starting. Women like to watch crowds pass on the sidewalk. They have learned that westerners are less likely to be offended by wise cracks addressed to them and most likely to engage in banter. Only men ever give tips. Most people when suddenly told to look to the right, look to the left. Older persons usually are in the majority on the tours. Newly-weds usually try to get the back seats. The weather makes a great difference in the humor of the passengers. In cold weather they are less likely to smile at jokes, but in summer they are a jovial crowd.

Quirks of Street Traffic

While the traffic on the shady side of the street is usually 24 per cent more than on the sunny side, an exceptional condition may upset this average. If most of a city lies to one side of a principal thoroughfare, as often happens in a lake or sea coast town, that side of the main artery will get more than its normal share of the traffic. People are less easily enticed across a street in some towns than in others. Boston, for example, is a conservative city, and its populace is inclined to be considerably bound by habit to do whatever it always has done.

In a few cities habit has even led people to cross certain street intersections diagonally. Just why the crowd should cut corners at one place and not at another seems to have no good explanation, other than that it has become customary. Most of the larger cities have so-called "jay-walkers" ordinances to prevent pedestrians from crossing streets diagonally, because of danger from automobile traffic. It is entirely conceivable that such an ordinance often forces enough additional foot traffic by a building to make a big increase in its ground floor renting value, and add thousands of dollars to the building's worth.

In a small village nearly the entire population passes its busiest corner—or its nearest approach to a busy corner—each day. A smaller and smaller percentage of the population can pass the one busiest location as the town grows larger. Indeed, I am assured by experts that in a city of 40,000, only about 8,000 persons, or 20 per cent, will pass the busiest spot. It will be only 6 per cent in a city of 600,000, and in New York it is less than 2 per cent.

How to Achieve Beauty

THE EYES AS A HEALTH BAROMETER

Each part of the body is a working unit of the harmonious whole. Each part, in its function and its organism, bears a direct relationship, through the media of thousands of little nerves, to all the rest of the body. The eye, which has been called the window of the soul, has another, less poetical, but none the less true interpretation.

It is the lighthouse of your health. It flashes the danger signals, the warnings of stormy times ahead, and it also, through the mechanical reaction, announces the presence of trouble in the human frame!

A prominent physician once made the very interesting notation which helped to place the eye as a diagnostic media. An owl had attached itself to his finger, and in pulling him away, the physician had dislocated the bird's leg.

He happened to be looking directly at the owl's eyes during the time, and watched the black mark appear at the moment of dislocation, in the lower center part of the eyes. Afterward, while setting the owl's leg, and throughout the healing period, he watched that part become just gray, covered with a film, and finally, as the bird ended his convalescence, it became quite normal again.

The physician found, through his careful watching and experiment, that different injuries to the foot and leg were indicated always on the one particular part of the eye and he, and others who followed the line of investigation, worked out a chart illustrating accurate and reliable, pointing out how troubles in different limbs and organs are all represented in different parts of the eye.

LIVER COCKTAIL IN PERNICIOUS ANEMIA

Liver is proving such a tremendous help in the treatment of pernicious anemia patients that there is no doubt that the healthy mortal will have to be content with going without it unless some other remedy is found to be as efficacious. Some physicians now hold that the other vitamins, especially kidneys, are equally effective, but this has not been proven yet, although the Minot-Murphy pernicious anemia diet does not recommend other meats being used also.

In the severe cases, raw liver is recommended. This seems repellent to us, but we eat raw oysters and raw clams without making any faces, so there is no doubt that the taste for raw liver can also be cultivated. Dr. Williams, in a recent number of the American Medical Journal, gives a liver cocktail which he says, if begun in small amounts, will soon be liked well enough to be taken in fairly large doses twice a day. At his suggestion, this cocktail was worked out by Miss Clara Schroeder, of Plaquemine, Ohio. It follows:

Liver Cocktail

Preparation: Liver — As soon as each order of liver is received at the kitchen, carefully remove all the veins and tough parts. Rinse in cold water.

Nor is it alone in the "spots" that the eye betrays your health, or lack of it. Texture, too, is a trustworthy barometer. When the eyes appear almost compact in texture it is a sign of vitality and strength. When they become apaque, frayed and uneven on the surface, they betray weakness.

Color, too, is an accurate means of judging physical condition. The eye of a perfectly healthy person is somewhat lighter in color than that of a less fortunate individual. This does not mean that the blue-eyed individual is healthier than her brown-eyed sister, but that the normal shade, either black, blue, hazel or brown, will be of a lighter shade in the healthy person.

The user of drugs can be recognized and convicted on the evidence of his eyes. Even comparatively harmless ones have their sign by color marks clearly visible on the outer rim—different colors evidencing different drugs. The pupils, too, contract and expand, not only from the effect of outside lighting, but from inside well being, too.

To the layman there are certain easily detected signs which are universally known and recognized.

No one fails to see the signs of cold. In fever, eyes are hard and bright like brittle stones, shining much too vividly from contact of the watchers. In the East the color of the eyes fade, not only from the intense heat of tropical suns, but through the gradual thinning out of blood and pigment. Anemia and undernourishment show themselves in the pale inner circles surrounding the eyes. A little study and observation will teach you to estimate your eye correctly as an unfailing barometer of health. And this is only the first of its claims upon your attention.

Put the prepared liver through a meat grinder twice, using the coarse cutter. Place it on ice immediately. One-half pound of liver makes four tablespoonsful of crushed product.

Sauce — Prepare a sauce as follows: Tomato catsup, 1-2 cup; lemon juice 1-4 cup; Worcestershire sauce, 2 teaspoonful; chives (finely chopped), 1-2 teaspoonful; salt and pepper to taste.

Cocktail — Mix the liver and sauce in the proportion of one part crushed liver to two and one-half parts of sauce. Chill thoroughly and serve in a cocktail glass with salt crackers or wafers.

Administration: A patient will acquire a taste for this liver cocktail. For a few days the amount offered should be very small, and then gradually increased until the patient readily accepts two cocktails daily, each of from two to four tablespoonsful of crushed liver. It is essential that the following recommendations be strictly adhered to: Every tough part must be carefully removed and the liver finely ground; the cocktail must be served cold and eaten with crackers; time must be allowed each patient to "develop a taste" before large amounts are offered.

Today's Recipes

Casserole of Rice and Meat — Grease a mold and line with steamed rice. Fill the center with two cups of cold, finely chopped meat, highly seasoned with salt, pepper, celery salt and onion juice. Then add one cup cracker crumbs, one egg slightly beaten, and enough hot water to moisten. Cover meat with rice, over rice with buttered paper to keep out moisture while steaming, and steam 45 minutes. Serve on a platter surrounded with tomato sauce.

Fig Tartlets — Three-fourths cup chopped figs, one-fourth cup sugar, one-half cup water, three tablespoons confectioners' sugar, one egg yolk, one tablespoon lemon juice, one-fourth cup chopped, roasted almonds, pastry shells, one stiffly beaten egg white. Cook the figs, raisins, sugar and water until thick — about ten minutes. Pour on to the egg yolk and cook over boiling water three minutes. Cool slightly and add lemon juice and nuts. Pour into small baked pastry shells. Slowly add three tablespoons confectioners' sugar to the stiffly beaten egg white, heating constantly until thick and smooth, and put on top of the tartlets. Bake in a moderate oven until delicately browned.

Brown Bread Toast — Brown bread may be used in either the cream toast or milk toast recipes in place of the usual white or graham bread. Toasted brown bread is delicious with either cream or pimento cheese and lettuce. Hot baked beans poured over toasted, buttered brown bread makes a quick and substantial luncheon.

cunning?"

Peter had been studying them all the while the lady bird was chipping.

"Cunning! I should say so! They're no larger than beans and as white as the eggs our white leghorns lay. They're not quite round, though, are they?"

"Round? I should hope not. I should be disgraced if they were!" Mrs. Humming-bird flitted her tail. "My eggs are oval and my children will be strong and healthy like all the children of my family. They'll fly a week after they are hatched and that is more than any other mother bird can say of her children. I have been sitting on the eggs for nine days. Unless I'm much mistaken, tomorrow we shall hear the children scratching to be let out of their shells. Before night out will pop their dear wee heads and then how their dad and I will have to hustle to feed their hungry little tummies! They must have all the flower wine they can hold so they shall grow strong of wing. It shall never be said any child of ours didn't have a fair start in life!"

SCHOOL CHILDREN WILL HOLD ANNUAL FIELD DAY PROGRAM

Xenia city school children will stage their annual Field Day exercises at Shawnee Park and Cox Memorial Athletic Field Friday, May 4.

With each grade limited to three entries in each event, there will be fifteen entries in the first grade events, twelve in the second, twelve in the third, twelve in the fourth and nine in the fifth and sixth grade events.

Each grade has been permitted to choose the contestants by elimination.

Chained To Chair By Rheumatic Pain—Little Green Capsule Frees Him From Agony

OFTEN IN 5 DAYS EVEN TENDERNESS IS GONE SAYS SAYRE'S DRUG STORE

Men and women who were bent nearly double—whose joints were swollen and inflamed—whose very existence was just one continuous torturing trial have watched with wonder their return to physical fitness and felt the glorious relief of a body free from aches and pains simply by putting their faith in the "little green capsule" known from coast to coast as Allenru Number 2.

These little green capsules go after the swelling and the pain in the right way—the knock-out way. One little capsule an hour for the first 10 hours; then continue as directed until every little twinge and every bit of tenderness is gone.

Just ask for Allenru Number 2. Substitutes and imitations may be offered you but remember, it's "the little green capsule" that is turning the trick and bringing joy to thousands of Rheumatic sufferers, so insist on Allenru No. 2. Sayre's Drug Store or any reputable druggist in America will be glad to supply you.

Here's Speedy Relief From Bunion Pains and Soft Corns

Get a two-ounce bottle of Moone's Emerald Oil (full strength) today. Every well stocked drug store has this, with the distinct understanding that your money will be cheerfully returned if it does not reduce the inflammation, soreness, and pain much quicker than any remedy you ever used.

Two or three applications of Moone's Emerald Oil and in fifteen minutes the pain and soreness disappears. A few more applications at regular intervals and the inflammation is gone.

And as for Soft Corns a few applications each night at bed time and they just seem to shrivel right up and scale off.

No matter how discouraged you have been with pads, shields, or other applications, if you have not tried Emerald Oil then you have nothing to learn.

It's a wonderful formula—this combination of essential oils with camphor and other antiseptics so marvelous that thousands of bottles are sold annually for reducing various swollen veins.

Sayre's Drug Store and every good druggist guarantees the first bottle of Moone's Emerald Oil to end your foot troubles or money back.

"Dress Well and Succeed"

The best way to size up a Men's store is by the size of its values

Handsome is as handsome does—looks alone never carried Lindbergh to Paris.

All modern clothing stores are supposed to have attractive entrances—polished cases—intelligent sales folks—but the real test comes in their values—and not in the velvet that trims the windows.

If you'll look around, you'll find that every substantial success in merchandising has been built on value and if you'll look and compare our values with any others on fine clothing—you won't look further.

Blindfolded ... in scientific test of leading Cigarettes, Mrs. Emily Post selects OLD GOLD

"Personally, I have never acquired a taste for tobacco. For most cigarettes seem to burn my tongue and sting my throat. The only time I ever smoke, therefore, is in courtesy to someone coming to my house, who would lay her accustomed cigarette aside unless I at least lit one, too.

"It seemed absurd, at first, that I should be chosen to attempt this blindfold test ... except that never having become a smoker, my taste is extremely sensitive to the burning harshness of the average cigarette.

"But I was very much surprised to find that I had chosen OLD GOLD as being perceptibly smooth, stingless and pleasant to taste. In fact, I now quite easily understand why the OLD GOLD compartment in my general cigarette box must be so constantly refilled."

Made from the heart-leaves of the tobacco plant.

MRS. EMILY POST (MRS. PRICE POST)
Author of "ETIQUETTE" and the Authoritative Arbiter of Social Usage

Only the heart-leaves of the tobacco plant are good enough for OLD GOLD.

That's the bedrock reason for "not a cough in a carload." The tobacco itself! That's the whole story of OLD GOLD's honey-like smoothness. Made from the golden-ripe heart-leaves of the tobacco plant you can tell the difference even in the dark.

Here's Speedy Relief From Bunion Pains and Soft Corns

Get a two-ounce bottle of Moore's Emerald Oil (full strength) today. Every well stocked drug store has this, with the distinct understanding that your money will be cheerfully returned if it does not reduce the inflammation, soreness, and pain much quicker than any remedy you ever used.

Two or three applications of Moore's Emerald Oil and in fifteen minutes the pain and soreness disappears. A few more applications at regular intervals and the inflammation is gone.

And as for Soft Corns a few applications each night at bed time and they just seem to shrivel right up and scale off.

No matter how discouraged you have been with pads, shields, or other applications, if you have not tried Emerald Oil then you have something to learn.

It's a wonderful formula—this combination of essential oils with camphor and other antiseptics so marvelous that thousands of bottles are sold annually for reducing varicose or swollen veins.

Sayre's Drug Store and every good druggist guarantees the first bottle of Moore's Emerald Oil to end your foot troubles or money back.

The best way to size up a Men's store is by the size of its values

Handsome is as handsome does—looks alone never carried Lindbergh to Paris.

All modern clothing stores are supposed to have attractive entrances—polished cases—intelligent sales folks—but the real test comes in their values—and not in the velvet that trims the windows.

If you'll look around, you'll find that every substantial success in merchandising has been built on value and if you'll look and compare our values with any others on fine clothing—you won't look further.

Blindfolded ... in scientific test of leading Cigarettes, Mrs. Emily Post selects OLD GOLD

"Personally, I have never acquired a taste for tobacco. For most cigarettes seem to burn my tongue and sting my throat. The only time I ever smoke, therefore, is in courtesy to someone coming to my house, who would lay her accustomed cigarette aside unless I at least lit one, too."

"It seemed absurd, at first, that I should be chosen to attempt this blindfold test... except that never having become a smoker, my taste is extremely sensitive to the burning harshness of the average cigarette."

"But I was very much surprised to find that I had chosen OLD GOLD as being perceptibly smooth, stingless and pleasant to taste. In fact, I now quite easily understand why the OLD GOLD compartment in my general cigarette box must be so constantly refilled."

Old Gold Cigarettes

Made from the heart-leaves of the tobacco plant.

SMOOTHER AND BETTER—NOT A COUGH IN A CARLOAD

MRS. EMILY POST (MRS. PRICE POST)

Author of "ETIQUETTE" and the Authoritative Arbitrator of Social Usage

Only the heart-leaves of the tobacco plant are good enough for OLD GOLDS.

That's the bedrock reason for "not a cough in a carload."

The tobacco itself! That's the whole story of OLD GOLD's honey-like smoothness. Made from the golden-ripe heart-leaves of the tobacco plant you can tell the difference even in the dark.

ANTIOCH OBSERVES MANN ANNIVERSARY WITH TWO PROGRAMS

Homer Corry, Springfield attorney, will deliver the principal address when Antioch College, Yellow Springs, observes the 132nd birth anniversary of Horace Mann, its founder, at vesper exercises next Sunday evening.

Mr. Corry is treasurer of the board of trustees of the college. Arthur E. Morgan, president of Antioch, will also speak and Charles W. Putnam will read from Mr. Mann's writings.

The actual birth anniversary occurs Friday when the college will hold its annual May Walk, a custom instituted by President Mann in 1853, the first year of his incumbency. He was president of the Yellow Springs school from 1853 to 1859.

Annually, on the first Friday in May, the students enjoy a walk through the Glen at Clifton. This year they will be joined at Clifton by the trustees, who will be in session Friday, and will enjoy a hot supper at Clifton.

Miss Julia Turner of the college faculty is in charge of the program.

EAST HIGH NOTES

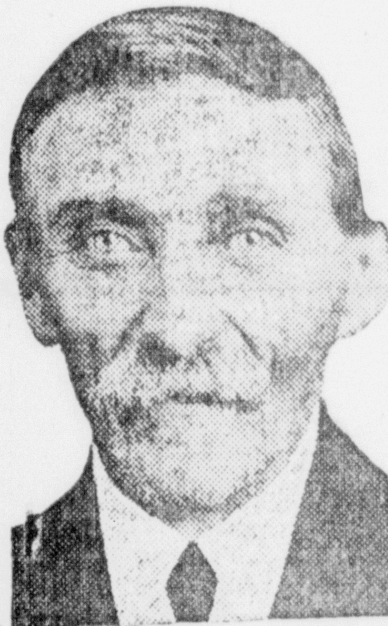

Patrons and pupils of Lincoln and East High School enjoyed a treat Monday afternoon when they heard the lecture on India given by Prof. V. V. Oak. Prof. Oak illustrated his lecture with stereoscopic views of the natives and scenery.

Who will be the most popular girl in East High? This is the question asked daily by the contestants and their friends. It will be answered next Friday night, May 11.

KONJOLA GAVE ME MORE RELIEF THAN I EVER EXPECTED

Uniontown Citizen Is Restored To Health And Indorses This Medicine To Other Sufferers

When you take this remarkable new Konjola medicine into your system, you start more than a score of medical ingredients to working for you. Each one of the twenty-two roots and herbs contained in this surprising compound has its own special duty to perform. Simultaneously, all the ingredients begin their work and in many instances results come almost at once which are astonishing. A remarkable statement received from Mr. George Smith, R. R. No. 2, Uniontown, (near Xenia) is typical of many hundreds of letters of praise and gratitude received day after day from local residents and men and women throughout this entire section.

"Konjola certainly ended my health troubles," said Mr. Smith, "and I am glad to recommend this medicine to other sufferers."

"Before I found Konjola, I tried everything for relief from the awful miseries I had been suffering. I was a nervous wreck. Every nerve in my body was on edge. I would shake all over and even my voice was affected. My system was completely rundown and my strength was gone. I had pains in my side, back and legs and every joint in my body was sore and aching. A dull, inactive liver was the cause of the thumping headaches and blind dizzy spells. Stomach trouble was the beginning of all this misery. Every bite of food I ate would sour and ferment, causing loads of gas to form and bloat me up until I could hardly breathe. I was always in distress after meals. I never slept sound at night and in the morning I would be tired and listless, with little and no energy to do my work."

"When Konjola was brought to my attention I was told of the results other people had from this medicine. I made up my mind right away to give it a trial. It went right to the source of my health troubles. By the time I had finished the first bottle of Konjola, I knew I had at last found the medicine I had always been looking for. My nerves are stronger than they have been for many years. That shaking and trembling is gone and I can rest much better at night. The soreness and stiffness has gone out of my joints and every ache and pain has disappeared. I seldom have headaches and those light-headed spells never annoy me any more. Konjola has stimulated my liver, my bowels move regularly and I can eat anything I want. Everything digests as it should and there is never the slightest distress after meals. Since my weight and strength have come back to normal, I have more energy to do my work, and when night comes I don't have that tired, draggy feeling I used to."

"Yes, Konjola has given me more relief than I ever expected, and that is why I am glad to tell others about it."

The Konjola Man is at the Gal-laher Drug Store, Xenia, where he is daily meeting the public and introducing and explaining the merits of this remedy. Free samples given.

XENIA YOUTH CONVICTED OF "DELINQUENCY IN SPRINGFIELD"

Lyman "Jack" Thompson, 24, Xenia, was convicted of contributing to the delinquency of a fifteen-year-old girl by a jury in Clark County Juvenile Court, Springfield, Wednesday afternoon.

SEVEN ALLEGED DRY LAW VIOLATORS ARE FINED OR DISMISSED

Cases of seven alleged liquor law violators, arrested recently as a result of a secret investigation conducted by two colored dry agents, were disposed of by Probate Judge S. C. Wright Thursday morning.

Hearings of the cases extended over the last two weeks and Judge Wright rendered decisions in all cases Thursday.

Calvin Hurst, and Wade Allen, colored, and Albert Ward, were each found guilty of selling liquor and fined $200 and costs, after motions for new trials had been overruled by the court.

George Holstein, Xenia junk dealer, was adjudged guilty of transporting and selling liquor. He was fined $500 and costs on the first charge and $200 and costs on the second case.

Edgar Hurst, colored, who changed his plea from not guilty to guilty to a charge of selling liquor, was fined $150 and costs.

Affidavits against Mrs. Mattie Smith, colored, and James Trace, charging them with selling liquor, were dismissed by the court.

Those against whom fines were assessed by the court, will be committed to the Cincinnati Workhouse unless payment is made, Judge Wright announced.

Acting Judge Frank M. Krapp fixed Thompson's bond at $2,500, but deferred sentence. Thompson was placed in the county jail in default of bond.

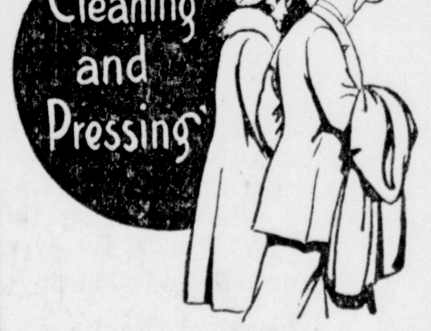

Dwight Ackley, 20, Xenia, charged with a similar offense in connection with the same case, pleaded guilty and was sentenced to sixty days in the Clark County jail.

The Xenia youths, it is charged, abducted Lucille Buck, 15, Springfield, from in front of the traction office here last March 11, telling her they would drive her to Springfield.

When nearing that city, the girl said to have jumped out of the auto after Thompson had made alleged improper advances toward her. She then ran to the nearby home of E. W. Tiffany, principal of Springfield High School and told her story, remaining there until the arrival of Sheriff George Benham, who took her to her parents' home.

Five witnesses testified for the state at Thompson's trial, including Deputy Sheriff Barton L. Minn, the girl, Mr. and Mrs. Tiffany and Dwight Ackley, Thompson's companion in the alleged attempted kidnapping episode. The defense offered eight witnesses, a majority of whom gave character testimony.

Attorney Marcus Shop, Xenia, assisted by Attorney Charles Ballard, Springfield, handled the defense.

SCHOOL DISPUTE MAY PREVENT PUPILS FROM TAKING EXAMS

An interesting legal question has arisen, as the result of the refusal of the Xenia Twp. Board of Education to allow about ninety prospective high school students from that township to take the examination for promotion of eighth grade pupils to high school, scheduled for Saturday, May 12, at 9 a. m., at Central High School, it is said.

H. C. Aultman, county superintendent of schools, has declared that he cannot and will not certify the pupils unless they take the examination. The situation involves the legal question—Can the township board of education legally pay the students' tuition to the city schools without the examination?

The Xenia Twp. Board pays between $8,000 and $9,000 a year tuition for its students entering high school, or about $90 a pupil.

"The parents can send their children to take the examination, without the township board's consent and it is hoped that they will not deny them privilege of attending high school," Mr. Aultman said Thursday.

Superintendent Aultman has taken the matter up with the State Superintendent of Education. Members of the Xenia Twp. Board are Horace Anderson, Bert Conklin, Frank Weaver, J. F. Shoemaker and Edward Bone.

Other eighth grade examinations are announced for the same date, at the Jamestown High School; Bellbrook and Cedarville High Schools. All pupils of the nine-month schools and those who did not pass the April examination are expected to take this examination. No other means for promotion has been provided.

"The State Department of Education, in order to secure valuable data, is asking all teachers of eighth grade work in all counties to take this examination. We are not attempting to make this mandatory in Greene County but are suggesting that the teachers do this in order that the research data may be had and in order that our county may not be an exception to the rule," Superintendent Aultman has announced to the teachers.

RECREATION PARLORS SOLD TO FORMER SHERIFF MORRIS SHARP

Sale of The Recreation Parlor, second floor Flynn Bldg., at 31 S. Detroit St., conducted by A. L. Regan and son, Leo Regan, to Morris Sharp, former sheriff of Greene County, was announced Thursday.

The sale consideration was not disclosed. The new owner has taken immediate possession.

A. L. Regan, who is manager of the packing and oinkum department of The E. T. Ruger Co., Newark, O., manufacturers of cordage since 1883, and is in charge of production and sales, announced that he expects to devote his entire time to the interest of this firm in the future. He has been connected with this company for the last year and travels extensively for the concern.

The Recreation Parlor, providing pool, billiard and bowling facilities, is located on the second floor of a building owned by P. H. Flynn which was completely remodelled last August.

Until that time, Regan had been proprietor of the Arcade pool and billiard parlor on S. Detroit St. for four years.

Following extensive improvements to the Flynn Bldg., the billiard parlor and bowling alleys were moved to the new location and the name changed.

Lee Regan, who has been associated with his father in the business, is pitching for Massillon, O., in a baseball league. The family, however, will continue to live in Xenia.

Morris Sharp, the new owner, served two terms as sheriff and for the last two years has been connected with the Greene County Hardware Co.

OHIO REFORMATORY FOR WOMEN FILLED

MARYSVILLE, O., May 3.—The Ohio Reformatory for Women here at present has 475 prisoners, the largest number in the history of the institution.

Work has started on the prison farm and a number of the inmates will be kept at outdoor work from now until next fall. Several acres of onions have been planted, as well as potatoes, peas and other garden vegetables.

Cabbage plants are now being set out and the women will assist in planting corn, plowing and harvesting.

Velma West, 21-year-old Painesville hammer slayer, is still employed in the art room. Eva Catherine Kaber, noted Cleveland murderer, who was sentenced for killing her husband, Dan Kaber, is unable to work because of a tumor. She has steadfastly refused to submit to an operation.

TRUCK TEST PROVED STANDARD CORRECT FIGURES REVEALED

City officials are in agreement that the informal test of a pumper fire truck of the General Manufacturing Co., St. Louis, Mo., in Xenia Tuesday, proved satisfactory in every way for the size of pumper used and that the trial was a success.

The truck, having an auxiliary rotary pumper unit, had 500 gallons guaranteed capacity instead of 600 gallons per minute, as officials originally interpreted representations of the St. Louis firm to say.

The test was unofficial and purely voluntary upon the part of the firm, since City Commission has already advertised for bids for a pumper of 750-gallon capacity. Figures furnished this paper Wednesday.

day purporting to show the truck had failed in the test to fulfill state requirements were misleading, officials now say.

The first informal test from hydrant, made at the Court House, was from pumping pressure of 150 pounds and nozzle pressure of 115 pounds. Fire Chief William Hanft announced. Two 100-foot hose lines were slamed into the local fire department's turret, with the nozzle having an inch and one-fourth tip. A volume of 495 gallons was obtained on sixty pounds pressure. The pumper was not tested to capacity.

The second test was from draft with a pumping pressure of ninety pounds. Two fifty-foot hose lines attached to nozzles of seventy-six and seventy-one pounds pressure, each having an inch and one-eighth tip, yielded 643 gallons of water per minute, or 143 gallons in excess of guaranteed capacity.

A third proposed pressure test was discounted as the testing gauge broke.

BISHOP JONES GETS HONORS AT MEETING AT WILBERFORCE U.

"The work he has done, the service he has rendered are honored by his friends who have gathered here this evening," declared Dean E. Champ Warwick of the College of Liberal Arts, Wilberforce University, at a testimonial meeting by the faculty, employees and community in honor of Bishop and Mrs. J. H. Jones for meritorious service rendered to the university, Wednesday night in Jones Auditorium.

Eight hundred people from all walks of life gathered to pay a tribute to the man who rebuilt Shorter Hall at a cost of more than one hundred thousand dollars.

A large silver loving cup was presented to Bishop Jones with the inscription, "To Bishop J. H. Jones of the Third Episcopal District of the A. M. E. Church for meritorious service to Wilberforce University, presented by faculty and employees, W. U., May 2, 1928." A large leather bag and brief case were also given him. Mrs. Jones was presented with several baskets of flowers by the women of the neighborhood who have been intimately associated with her for many years.

The program was divided into two parts. In the first part the students rendered musical numbers and a testimonial speech was given by W. W. Harris, and a presentation speech by R. R. Reid, who presented flowers to Mrs. Jones. The second part of the program was carried out by the citizens, W. W. Anderson and Dean Geo. F. Woodson gave testimonials. Mrs. James Holland to Mrs. Jones and Mrs. G. I. Tate made the presentation address to Bishop Jones when she presented the gifts. The general response was by Bishop Jones.

Music interspersed the program, which opened with an organ prelude by Miss G. E. Edwards, followed by prayer by B. J. Nolan. The Glee Club and the quartet rendered selections. Miss Josephine Smith sang a solo and Mrs. Charles F. Pointe, Jr., played a piano solo. Superintendent R. C. Bundy and Dr. H. R. P. gave testimonials and the Rev. L. C. Ridley pronounced benediction at the close of the program.

Bishop Jones left Thursday to attend the general conference of the A. M. E. Church at Chicago.

The HUDSON Victoria Creating Sensational Interest

The Hudson Victoria has everywhere met an eager acceptance that stamps it one of the most popular models Hudson ever built. Its low, sweeping lines, lustrous colors and spirited grace in action, pick it out in the big parade with vivid distinction.

The interior finish and arrangement, hundreds of buyers tell us, is the roomiest and most comfortable ever provided in this type of car. The driver's seat and companion front seat are high-backed, form-fitting and deeply upholstered.

The rear seat is ample for two, with exceptionally comfortable riding position and plenty of leg room. Every detail is of silenced construction, extending even to the insulated door construction of exclusive design.

The Victoria is but one of the brilliant new models responsible for the definite leadership in mode which Hudson has set.

In the beautifully designed and luxuriously finished bodies that feature all new Hudson Super-Sixes, the same relation of values obtain as made the Super-Six chassis famous. A single ride will revise your whole knowledge of automobile values.

Start your baby chicks right

Do you have trouble starting your baby chicks? Is mortality high? Are those that live so subject to disease that they become a menace to the entire flock?

Give your baby chicks the best start possible. UBiko Buttermilk Starting Mash with Cod-Liver Oil will do it. This proved starting mash contains all the essentials that make for quick and balanced growth. It is composed of carefully chosen, wholesome grains, meat and milk products that supply the necessary nourishment and the important A, B and C Vitamins. The cod-liver oil furnishes the D Vitamin that prevents leg weakness.

When the chicks are about six weeks old, change gradually to UBiko Buttermilk Growing Mash and UBiko Intermediate Scratch Feed. This mash—like the starting mash—is composed of a variety of grain and other tested ingredients that produce rapid body development, balanced growth of wing and tail feathers, and strong bone.

We recommend UBiko Starting Mash and UBiko Growing Mash because we know what they will do—and at low cost. You can take our word for it—they will produce results. CAP PISTOL PLANT DESTROYED BY FIRE

UHRICHVILLE, O., May 3.—The Fourth of July celebration of the American youth is going to have a depression this year, it was indicated today.

The plant of the Kilgore Manufacturing Company, manufacturers of pistols and pistol caps, is smoldering in ruins today following a fire caused by the explosion of pistol caps on a work bench. A carload of caps on a railroad siding next to the factory exploded from the flame.

Thirty employees of the company escaped without injury. Loss was estimated at $35,000.

MEDAL FOR SCHWAB

LONDON, May 3.—The Best mer gold medal for achievement in the iron and steel industry, was today awarded to Charles M. BISHOP JONES GETS HONORS AT MEETING AT WILBERFORCE U.

"The work he has done, the service he has rendered are honored by his friends who have gathered here this evening," declared Dean E. Champ Warrick of the College of Liberal Arts, Wilberforce University, at a testimonial meeting by the faculty, employees and community in honor of Bishop and Mrs. J. H. Jones for meritorious service rendered to the university, Wednesday night in Jones Auditorium.

Eight hundred people from all walks of life gathered to pay a tribute to the man who rebuilt Shorter Hall at a cost of more than one hundred thousand dollars.

A large silver loving cup was presented to Bishop Jones with the inscription, "To Bishop J. H. Jones of the Third Episcopal District of the A. M. E. Church for meritorious service to Wilberforce University, presented by faculty and employees, W. L. May 2, 1934." A large leather bag and brief case were also given him. Mrs. Jones was presented with several baskets of flowers by the women of the neighborhood who have been intimately associated with her for many years.

The program was divided into two parts. In the first part the students rendered musical numbers and a testimonial speech was given by W. W. Harris, and a presentation speech by R. R. Reid, who presented flowers to Mrs. Jones. The second part of the program was carried out by the citizens, W. W. Anderson and Dean Geo. F. Woodson gave testimonials. Mrs. James Tate made the presentation address to Mrs. Jones and Mrs. G. I. Holland to Bishop Jones when she presented the gifts. The general response was by Bishop Jones.

Music interspersed the program, which opened with an organ prelude by Miss G. E. Edwards, followed by prayer by B. J. Nolan. The Glee Club and the quartet rendered selections, Miss Josephine Smith sang a solo and Mrs. Charles F. Points, Jr., played a piano solo. Dr. H. R. H. gave testimonial and the Rev. L. C. Ridley pronounced benediction at the close of the program.

Bishop Jones left Thursday to attend the general conference of the A. M. E. Church at Chicago.

The HUDSON Victoria Creating Sensational Interest

The Hudson Victoria has everywhere met an eager acceptance that stamps it one of the most popular models Hudson ever built. Its low, sweeping lines, lustrous colors and spirited grace in action, pick it out in the big parade with vivid distinction.

The interior finish and arrangement, hundreds of buyers tell us, is the roomiest and most comfortable ever provided in this type of car. The driver's seat and companion front seat are high-backed, form-fitting and deeply upholstered.

The rear seat is ample for two, with exceptionally comfortable riding position and plenty of leg room. Every detail is of silenced construction, extending even to the insulated door construction of exclusive design.

The Victoria is but one of the brilliant new models responsible for the definite leadership in mode which Hudson has set.

In the beautifully designed and luxuriously finished bodies that feature all new Hudson Super-Sixes, the same relation of values obtain as made the Super-Six chassis famous. A single ride will revise your whole knowledge of automobile values.

CAP PISTOL PLANT DESTROYED BY FIRE

UHRICHSVILLE, O., May 3.—The Fourth of July celebration of the American youth is going to have a depression this year, it was indicated today.

The plant of the Kilgore Manufacturing Company, manufacturers of pistols and pistol caps, is smoldering in ruins today following a fire caused by the explosion of pistol caps on a work bench. A carload of caps on a railroad siding next to the factory exploded from the flame.

Thirty employees of the company escaped without injury. Loss was estimated at $35,000.

MEDAL FOR SCHWAB

LONDON, May 3.—The Best mer gold medal for achievement in the iron and steel industry, was today awarded to Charles M. Schwab, of the Bethlehem Steel Corporation, by the British Iron and Steel Institute. The presentation was made by Benjamin Talbot, president of the institute, at the Institution of Civil Engineers. About 500 engineers were present.

HUNT BROOM PLANT EXPANSION COMES BEFORE CITY COMMISSION

Plans for the enlargement of the Hunt Broom Factory, 120 Dayton Ave., by erection of an addition, were made the basis of a special City Commission meeting Thursday morning.

Since it would be necessary to acquire city-owned property to obtain a site for the proposed new factory building, E. H. Hunt, owner of the plant, sought, through the Xenia Retail Merchants Association, to obtain the sentiment of the commission regarding the proposition.

Representatives of the association were present at the meeting and outlined the plan. Commissioners, although taking no definite action, expressed themselves as unanimously willing to co-operate in the project through the sale of property owned by the city north of the broom factory.

No figures were available, as to the exact amount of land sought for the factory site, in order to sell the needed property, it will be necessary to go through the regular legal procedure of advertising for bids, it was announced.

While plans for the erection of the factory addition are still in a tentative stage, it is announced the new building would be used for the manufacture of, whisk brooms. It would also mean the employment of from ten to fifteen additional men.

The factory now employs thirty-eight workers. Steady growth of business in recent years has resulted in frequent enlargements of the plant until at present there are three additions to the original plant.

MORALS GOOD BUT BUSINESS BAD

BUDAPEST, May 3.—Morals are getting better in Budapest but the dress makers are unhappy about it.

A delegation of ladies' tailors held a mass meeting today to protest against the recent decree of the Hungarian minister of education prohibiting high school girls from wearing anything but long skirts and blouses with high necks.

The dresses are uniform. The dress makers complain that this wave of morality will cost them thousands of dollars and deprive them of the business of making about 50,000 new dresses this year.

It was resolved to send a deputation to the premier and the minister of education asking that the decree be cancelled. The girls themselves are not very keen about it.

SEVENTY INJURED IN BULGARIA CYCLONE

SOFIA, BULGARIA, May 3.—While relief workers and troops scoured the debris left by a terrific cyclone at Stara-Zagora for possible dead, seventy persons who were injured in the catastrophe were being cared for today.

The cyclone left in its wake a devastated town. The residents, already having been through the horrors of numerous earthquakes recently, fled in panic.

Buildings were demolished, trees uprooted and crops in the fields outside the town, ravaged. When the full force of the cyclone desisted after fifteen minutes, many persons were found to be missing.

What Dr. Caldwell Learned in 47 Years Practice

Dr. Caldwell watched the results of constipation for 47 years, and believed that no matter how careful people are of their health, diet and exercise, constipation will occur from time to time regardless of how much one tries to avoid it. Of next importance, then, is how to treat it when it comes. Dr. Caldwell always was in favor of getting as close to nature as possible, hence his remedy for constipation, known as Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, is a mild vegetable compound. It can not harm the most delicate system and is not a habit forming preparation. Syrup Pepsin is pleasant-tasting, and youngsters love it. It does not gripe. Thousands of mothers have written us to that effect.

Dr. Caldwell did not approve of drastic physics and purges. He did not believe they were good for human beings to put into their system. In a practice of 47 years he never saw any reason for their use when a medicine like Syrup Pepsin will empty the bowels just as promptly, more cleanly and gently, without griping and harm to the system.

Keep free from constipation! It robs your strength, hardens your arteries and brings on premature old age. Do not let a day go by without a bowel movement. Do not sit and hope, but go to a druggist and get one of the generous bottles of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin. Take the proper dose that night and by morning you will feel like a different person. Use Syrup

Pepsin for yourself and members of the family in constipation, biliousness, sour and crampy stomach, bad breath, no appetite, headaches, and to break up fevers and colds. Always have a bottle in the house, and observe these three rules of health: Keep the head cool, the feet warm, the bowels open. We would be glad to have you prove at our expense how much Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin can mean to you and yours. Just write "Syrup Pepsin" Monticello, Illinois, and we will send you prepaid a FREE SAMPLE BOTTLE. —Adv.

A Halo of Loveliness

By Edna Wallace Hopper

The most flattering frame for your face is your hair. It is up to you to bring out the healthy glint and the softness that blends with your features.

Keep your hair clean. Shampoo it once a week. That is necessary. But it must be more than clean. It must be radiant. That is what my Fruity Shampoo does for you.

It is the only shampoo that ever has satisfied me. I use it at least once a week and the thousands of people who see me on the stage know that my hair glows with a scintillating luster.

You can get my Fruity Shampoo at any toilet counter. The price is 60 cents.

DIVORCES ALMOST MATCH MARRIAGES

Divorce suits filed in Common Pleas Court during April came within nine of equaling the number of marriage licenses granted by the bureau in Probate Court, comparative figures for the month show.
Fifteen licenses were issued during the month and six suits for separation were filed, including four in which the wife tried of wedded bliss and two in which the husband was the plaintiff.

SWEETHEARTS

AUTHOR of "MY SON'S SWEETHEARTS" "CONFESSIONS OF A WIFE," ETC.

Copyright, 1927, by Central Press Association, Inc.

Lynda, I love you."

READ THIS FIRST:
Lynda Fenton, a singularly innocent girl, is private secretary to Ralph Armitage. Her father, a drunkard, tells her that her mother deserted them, and that all women have their price.

Lynda meets Emily Andrews, who cherishes a secret fondness for David Kenmore, Lynda's companion from childhood. Emily plots against Lynda from the very beginning. David tells Lynda he loves her, but she decides she doesn't want to be in love with any man. David is away on a trip.

Lynda's father, too, deserts her, and Claire Stanhope comes to live with her. Claire tells of innocent love for Fred Blake, a married man. Lynda comes home one day to find Fred in the house, and hears Claire entreating him to stay away.

June Challer, who has annexed money, invites Lynda and Claire and Emily Andrews to a big party. It's Lynda's first real affair, and she's enthralled. Emily secretly sends David a letter, suggesting that he come home for the party, so that Lynda may be made to feel at ease. Then she sends him an anonymous note, saying "Ralph Armitage is ruining your girl."

Ralph meets with an accident, and sends for Lynda and Claire to come to him. Claire has had an innocent love affair with Fred Blake, a friend of Ralph's, and she's afraid of a scandal when Mrs. Blake petitions for divorce. Ralph tells her he'll fix it for her. Ralph says he'll be at June Challer's party.

Next day he shows up at the office.

Pamilla Sheston phones. She says she'll come to see him. When she is in a secluded corner and watch the world go by. You say you want to have good times like other girls. Do you think other girls always have good times? Certainly you should be pretty well convinced by this time that your friend, Claire, is often unhappy than happy."

"Poor Claire. Have you heard from Fred Blake yet?"

"No, but I'm going to see him tonight. I should hate to have Pamilla Sheston get hold of him, for I am satisfied that as much as he cares for anyone, he cares for Claire. Of course, I'm sure Claire is too good for him, but she is like the baby in the case of soap advertisement—she'll never be satisfied until she gets it. I've got to go now, Lynda. I've overstayed the time the doctor gave me, as it is. I shall send for you tomorrow, if I am able to see anyone, but until I see you again, my dear, please, please, please know that what I have been saying to you today is only the truth."

Lynda's head drooped, but he continued.

"I don't blame you for not believing me, but I'm going to make you believe in me. Call Wilson."

The girl got to her feet hastily. She never could get used to Armitage's quick changes from lover to business man, and from business man back again. When she reached the door and opened it, she was confronted by Mr. Armitage, who was apparently just coming in. She was furious at herself for blushing.

"Yes, I came in to see Ralph," he said to her, and then turning to his son, he asked: "Are you sure that you are well enough to come down today, my boy?"

"I thought I was, but I've just decided, Dad, that I have had enough of it, and Miss Fenton is just going after Wilson to help me back to the car."

It seemed to Lynda that Armitage, senior, looked at her very curiously, and before she passed entirely out of hearing, she was sure she heard her name mentioned. After she had sent Wilson to Ralph, she lingered a moment at Claire's desk.

"I may be a little late tonight," she said. "Will you wait for me?"

"I'm awfully sorry, Lyn, but I was just going in to your office to tell you that I would not be home to dinner."

Lynda's eyes asked the question, and Claire answered:

"Yes, I'm going to dinner with Fred. He told me he was going out to the Armitage house tonight, at Ralph's request, and he wanted to see me before he went. I feel as if I were being rushed off my feet, but something has got to break very soon. I can't muddle along this way."

As she left the big building, Emily joined Lynda, and when she found that Claire was going to be out, she invited herself to dinner with Lynda.

To Penetrate Africa

Mrs. John Fletcher, of San Francisco, Cal., writer and botanist, has set out on a six-month adventure into the heart of Africa, leaving her husband and family behind in the coast city. Material for writing and a collection of botanical specimens and insects are the incentive for the trip. Big game is barred, but Mrs. Fletcher intends hunting for food game.

The THEATER

NEW YORK, May 3.—Charlie Chaplin has received so many applications for the role of Napoleon in his forthcoming concept of the Corsican's personality and private life that he is coming to believe all the anecdotes which begin with the line, "He thinks he's Napoleon."

Before he goes to work on it, he must complete "The Suicide Club," P. W. Murnau's new picture, "The Four Devils," is being held up at great expense, because little Philippe De Lacy, who has an important part, broke his arm playing sandlot baseball.

Maria Casajuna, Spanish beauty prize winner, is a hit in pictures, so her name has been shortened to the more pronounceable Maria Alba. Mabel Normand and Lew Cody have called off their divorce.

Irish Charles C. Rogers plays the Jewish boy in "Able's Irish Rose," and Irish Patsy Ruth Miller is the Jewish girl in "We Americans," and, well, the Irish don't control the motion picture industry. Llewellyn Totman, author of "Walter Hagen's initial movie drama, used to be the golf champion's caddy.

Paramount pictures has just made the important announcement that the motion picture, "Dawn," showing the execution of Edith Cavell, will not be shown in any theater which the company owns or controls.

Twenty Years '08- Ago '28

Last April 27 was the twenty-fourth anniversary of the terrible cyclone which razed Jamestown to the ground, and crushed out the lives of several of its inhabitants.

M. F. Barrows, who has spent the last five weeks in the state of Sonora, Mexico, arrived home.

Bert Blair, New Burlington, has joined the fairground delegation of horse trainers. He has a string of fine youngsters in training and will soon have several more.

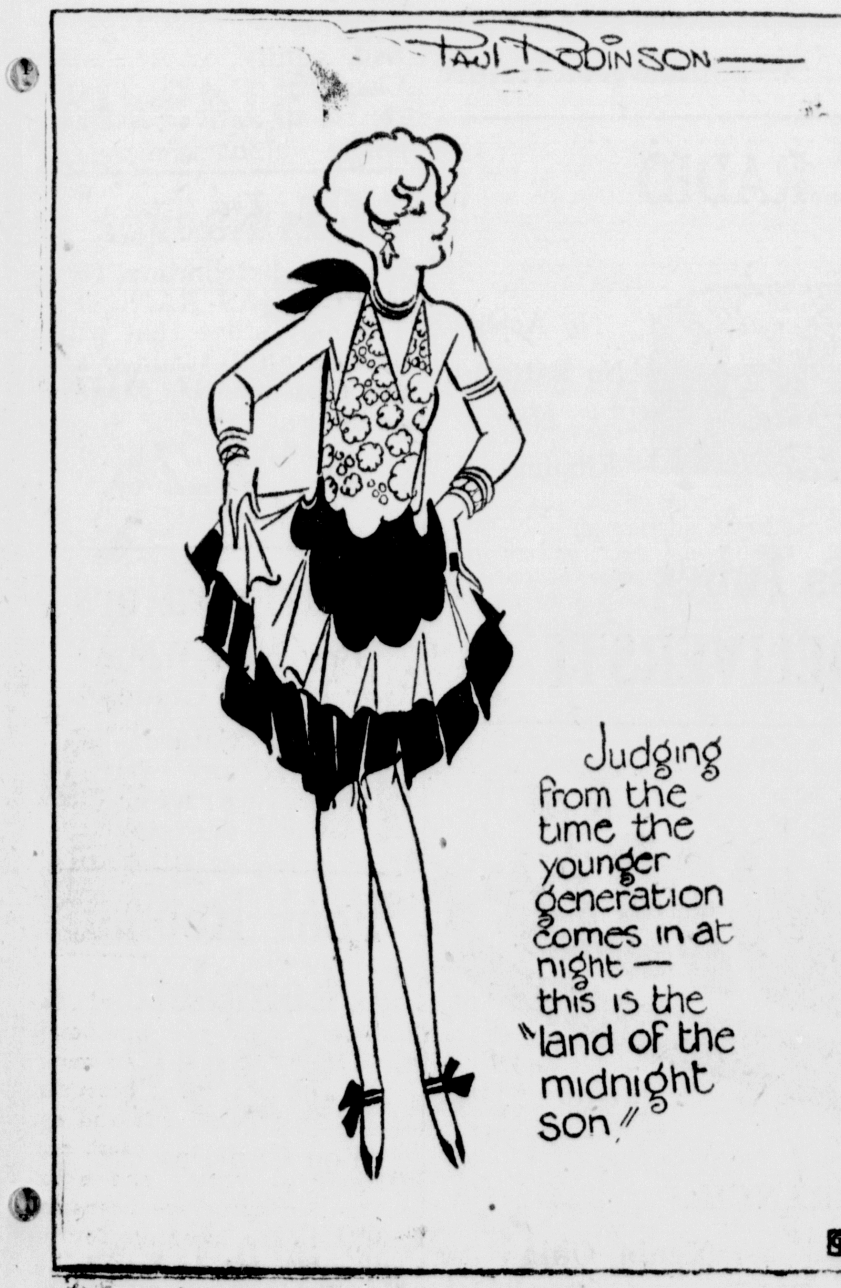

The O. S. and S. O. Home beat Springfield High School in a baseball game, 5 to 0. It was so cold several players wore their overcoats during the contest.

The Xenia Nationals, with Wharton on the mound, won a cleverly played game from the Springfield Arcades, the score being 3 to 1.

Radio Revue

BY C. KAY

Exclusive Central Press Dispatch to Gazette

NEW YORK, May 3.—The most notable of recent radio developments is the system by which large radio-telephone stations can establish contact with each other by "dialing" a number, for the system makes it possible for telephone users anywhere to talk with a ship at sea, an airplane in flight, or a person on a radio-equipped train traveling across country.

The inventors of the system, Lewis M. Clement, and S. B. Williams, both of New York, admit that it has not been perfected. There is no immediate field of application for it outside of its possible use for aircraft communication, but the future may find it applied even to inter-city service.

However, the radio dialing device isn't likely to supplant present-day telephone wire systems. Its possibilities are as a means of linking up places to which wires cannot be run, with the regular wire systems. The two systems, wire and radio, could be easily used together and operated by the user as the ordinary dial phone is used today in large cities.

Inventor Clement, explaining the system, says:

"Suppose we have three channels or toll links to cities A, B and C, which operate on separate frequencies. From a series of contacts on a dial the user would be able to select one of the waves to the city wanted by dialing the proper letter or number. This would automatically start up a transmitter in the local system and affect the apparatus at the receiving end.

"If the 'line' was being used, the busy signal would result, but if not, the next letter or figure dialed at the calling telephone would select the exchange in the distant city. The third letter would make further selection, and so on, until the subscriber's number is obtained and the bell rings, announcing the call."

This device, applied to radio, is similar to apparatus used at present in automatic wire exchanges.

Automatic radio telephone service, a fantastic idea twenty years ago, is today accomplished.

Clement is chief engineer of a receiving apparatus manufacturing concern, and Williams is an automatic telephone expert. They hold patents on the system, which they worked out independently.

RAVENNA, O., May 3.—There were forty-four new pharmacists in Ohio today, this representing those who passed the Ohio state board of pharmacy examination and will be granted certificates. Only forty-four out of eighty-one applicants succeeded in passing the examination.

SOME WOMEN ALWAYS ATTRACT

You want to be beautiful. You want the tireless energy, fresh complexion and pep of youth. Then let Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets keep your system free from the poisons caused by clogged bowels and torpid liver.

For 20 years, men and women suffering from stomach troubles, pimples, listlessness and headaches have taken Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets, a successful substitute for calomel, a compound of vegetable ingredients, mixed with olive oil, known by their olive color. They act easily upon the bowels without griping. They cleanse the system and tone up the liver.

Keep youth and its many gifts. Take Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets nightly. How much better you will feel—and look. 15c, 30c, 60c. All Druggists.

LOUISIANA MAN TO DELIVER ADDRESS

Leo G. Favrot, Baton Rouge, La., field agent for the educational board of the M. E. Church, will deliver the commencement address at Wilberforce University June 21. It is announced.

Mr. Favrot was formerly in a state department of education of Louisiana in charge of teachers' training with special reference to teachers for colored schools.

Dr. C. H. Wesley, Howard University, Washington, D. C., will deliver the commencement address for graduates of Payne Theological Seminary the same day.

BARON ATTENDS CHURCH ALONE

Baron Von Huenefeld reads his prayer book in St. Peter's Lutheran Church at New York where he attended services Sunday morning.

A Customer Wrote This Ad for Us

One of our old, old customers came in the other day. We hadn't seen him for some time.

"I'm going to confess, Charlie," he said, "I fell for a sign two weeks ago that offered me a tire for $13.60.

"Well, the man told me it was a regular $22 tire. I bought it. Day before yesterday it blew up. I took it back this morning. And guess what that slicker said.

"Sure, I'll make it right," he told me. 'I'll give you another tire just like that one.'

"But I don't want another one like that," I said.

"Oh, you just happened to get a bad one," he said. 'Here's another—now all you do is pay me the difference between the regular price and the bargain price—just $8.40 and you get a brand new tire.'

Strange as it may seem, there are lots of folks who think they can get a $22 tire for $13.60.

Our policy is to offer the best tires we know—Good-year Tires—at fair prices. We don't have "bargain days" where we put "$13.60" on a $12 tire and try to make anybody believe it's really worth $22.

We do business on the "up-and-up" every day in the week. And if an adjustment is necessary—which is darn seldom—we handle it on an honest, satisfactory basis.

Remember that when you're tempted with a "bargain." Remember Goodyear Tire Service is FREE here, too.

Come on over.

Are You Furnishing Your Home Or Just Buying FURNITURE

There is a host of home-loving folks who seldom go shopping. They are not "price mad." They buy what they want and they want it to be correct.

Before you buy furniture, get the facts how we have figured out methods to increase the savings of our customers, but before we discuss that, we want to make it clear that the savings we plan for you are but one of the minor reasons why you should buy here. The principle reason is because Brown's quality and service has caused our company to grow from one small store into a chain of six stores serving thousands of customers. Radio Revue

Exclusive Central Press Dispatch to Gazette

NEW YORK, May 3.—The most notable of recent radio developments is the system by which large radio-telephone stations can establish contact with each other by dialing a number, for the system makes it possible for telephone users anywhere to talk with a ship at sea, an airplane in flight, or a person on a radio-equipped train traveling across country.

The inventors of the system, Lewis M. Clement, and S. B. Williams, both of New York, admit that it has not been perfected. There is no immediate field of application for it outside of its possible use for aircraft communication, but the future may find it applied even to inter-city service.

However, the radio dialing device isn't likely to supplant present-day telephone wire systems. Its possibilities are as a means of linking up places to which wires cannot be run, with the regular wire systems. The two systems, wire and radio, could be easily used together and operated by the user as the ordinary dial phone is used today in large cities.

Inventor Clement, explaining the system, says:

"Suppose we have three channels or toll links to cities A, B and C, which operate on separate frequencies. From a series of contacts on a dial the user would be able to select one of the waves to the city wanted by dialing the proper first letter or number. This would automatically start up a transmitter in the local system and affect the apparatus at the receiving end.

"If the 'line' was being used, the busy signal would result, but if not, the next letter or figure dialed at the calling telephone would select the exchange in the distant city. The third letter would make further selection, and so on, until the subscriber's number is obtained and the bell rings, announcing the call."

This device, applied to radio, is similar to apparatus used at present in automatic wire exchanges.

Automatic radio telephone service, a fantastic idea twenty years ago, is today accomplished.

Clement is chief engineer of a receiving apparatus manufacturing concern, and Williams is an automatic telephone expert. They hold patents on the system, which they worked out independently.
